

Action expected on advisory council

By RICHARD GOLD

CANTON—A citizens advisory council may soon become a reality for residents of the township. The board of trustees will act Tuesday, at its next regularly scheduled meeting, on a motion submitted by Supervisor Robert Greenstein.

The motion, to establish a citizens advisory council, outlines the composition, purpose and areas of study the proposed advisory body would investigate.

While it bears some resemblance to a recommendation made by an "ad hoc committee" of residents to form a citizens advisory council, it differs significantly in the proposed makeup of the council.

Greenstein's motion suggests the council be composed of representatives from organized homeowner groups, the chamber of commerce, and the farm bureau. Each organization would nominate a representative and the township board would either approve or veto the nominee.

The residents' proposal, submitted to the board several weeks ago, suggests representation come from the voting precincts in the township, on the census enumeration districts.

The residents, who met with township planner Mike Manore several times earlier in the year, said that if representation on the council could not be picked from either the voting or census districts, it should be based on population rather than representation of specific interests.

Greenstein's motion says "the prime responsibility of each appointee to the citizen's advisory council (CAC) is to represent the area from which he or she was appointed as well as an attempt at some overview for the township."

However, his motion stipulates that the first and most immediate task of the CAC would be to study its original representation and report back to the board as soon as possible on what areas or interests in the township would be lacking representation. The proposal says, "It is suggested that those people representing unorganized areas who have shown an interest in the CAC by attending organizational meetings shall be given first attention for consideration."

The supervisor's proposal also differs on subcommittee makeup of the council. He suggests that residents of the township who are asked to join subcommittees investigating specific problems also be approved by the township board. The residents' proposal makes no provision for such approval.

The purpose, goals, and areas of study for the council, however, are similar in both Greenstein's motion and the residents' recommendation.

Greenstein's proposal says the "CAC will accept any assignment from the board and will report directly to board by way of recommendation only. He adds, "The CAC is free to assign themselves certain task activities at the will of the majority" provided the township board tasks take precedence.

Greenstein also suggests that the council have the power to request all funds necessary for it to fulfill its obligations ("funds necessary to facilitate its investigation and ultimate report").

The supervisor also suggests the council be a permanent advisory body with members serving staggered two-year terms. An original advisory council, now defunct, was established to study and make recommendations for the master land use plan.

Canton officials plan DC trip

CANTON—Five members of the township board will be journeying to the nation's capital Thursday, May 15 as part of a municipal conference sponsored by Congressman William D. Ford (D-Taylor).

According to Supervisor Robert Greenstein, all members of the board will be going, except Trustee Brian Schwall and Clerk John Flodin.

The conference will begin on May 15 and township officials are scheduled to return on May 17.

The trip will be paid for by the township, and Greenstein estimates the cost at between $500 and $600.

"It's an annual event sponsored by Bill Ford," said the supervisor. "Every elected official in the 15th District is invited. This is the eleventh year in a row it's been done."

According to the supervisor, the two-day conference will aid local officials in their dealings with the federal government.

"The conference will deal with areas the federal government is involved in or where federal money is used," commented Greenstein. "It'll concern those areas where we have previously submitted questions to Ford."

He added, "We will discuss issues like the block grant program. In fact if we hadn't gone to Washington earlier, that would be one of the topics."

Greenstein said the discussion would center around topics such as the safe streets act and how to get more street lighting for Canton, how to get money for the McIntyre Manor sewers, development rights, how to protect open land and agricultural land, and how to get money for senior citizen facilities and public buildings.

He said, "Basically it will be about how to get federal money. Right now we are trying to get funds to remodel some of the township facilities. This should help."

Residents of Plymouth Township

pay $3.46 per 1,000 cubic feet. An annual tax levy of $126,000, in effect, adds another $1.22 per 1,000 cubic feet to the bill, bringing the total to $4.68.

Web Kincaide, superintendent of Plymouth Township's water and sewer department, says the tax levy finances the townships debt retirement for water projects.

"It bothers us that people think they pay less money for water in Plymouth Township," said Plymouth City Manager Fred Yockey. "Comparisons are misnomers, unless you analyze every rate."

Kincaide agreed. "Everybody figures out their water rates differently," he said. "It's difficult to compare those figures."

The city could lower its quarterly water bills, Yockey noted, if it levied an additional $126,000 in taxes or a half mill (50 cents per $1,000 state equalized value.) as Plymouth Township does.

Plymouth Township serves more large industrial customers than the city, Yockey said. It is cheaper to service one customer who uses a great deal of water than several who use lesser amounts.

Commissioner Harold Guenther defended the city's rates at Monday's city commission meeting.

"When the $5.26 was set, there was a great deal of argument about whether it was high enough to build up a big enough reserve," he said. "I felt the reserve was not big enough."

The city charter forbids the transfer of water funds to other accounts, noted Commissioner Norbert Battermann. That means water funds cannot be used to build swimming pools and libraries as Detroit Mayor Coleman Young has charged.

The city established its current water rates in 1972, according to Yockey. Spokesmen for Plymouth and Canton townships say rates have not been adjusted there "for years."

"We haven't raised our rates in 10 years," said Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein. "We've been trying to keep them as low as we can, but I don't know how much longer we'll be able to do it."

Kincaide said, "We're getting to the point where we're losing money. We'll probably have to raise our rates soon, especially if we get an increase from Detroit."

Residents of Canton Township, for example, pay the lowest rate in the area for water—$2.84 per 1,000 cubic feet.

The City of Plymouth charges the highest rate in the area—$5.26 per 1,000 cubic feet. An additional service charge of $3.15 appears on each quarterly bill to finance the rental fees of water meters.

Water bills reflect more than the dollar and cent value of the chemical compound.

That's the word from officials of three local communities who are objecting to a recently published account, comparing the markup each suburb writes on the price tag of Detroit water.

Water bills, local officials say, finance the salaries of water department personnel, equipment, debt retirements and a myriad of other expenses besides the cost of water itself. Each community must charge rates to keep its water department running.

Canton Township pays Detroit $1.80 per 1,000 cubic feet (7,500 gallons) of water. The City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township pay $1.91 per 1,000 cubic feet. The rates are based on the distance between the communities and Detroit water processing plants.

But residents of the three communities pay different prices for the water they use. Officials of all three communities, however, assure residents that no one is getting "ripped off."

Out-county jail appears doomed

WAYNE COUNTY—Plans for a combined out-county court and jail facility in Westland have met at least temporary defeat before the County Board of Commissioners.

Commissioners gave their approval May 1 to the concept of a new 400-bed jail in downtown Detroit by a 16-1 vote, with two abstentions including one from Mary Dumas (R-Livonia). All other area commissioners favored the plan.

But by voice vote the commissioners sent the out-county portion of the proposal back to their Public Safety and Judiciary, and Public Works committees for further study.

The public works chairman, John Lesinski (D-Dearborn), said plans for the 350-bed jail and four Circuit Court rooms in Westland "are dead for the foreseeable future."

REFERRAL of the facility proposed for county-owned land south of Michigan Avenue opposite Wayne County General Hospital was proposed by Commissioner Tom F. Taylor (D-Westland), long a proponent of out-county facilities along with Mrs. Dumas.

Taylor charged the need for nearly 1,600 cells has not been demonstrated. He said the concept of an out-county jail facility was developed before "it became apparent that we are going to be able to retain the present jail facility."

The Westland Democrat, whose district also includes Garden City also noted that several million dollars have been spent on renovating the present jail which has a court-set lawful capacity of 799 prisoners.

LESINSKI said the Federal Law Enforcement Administration (LEAA) which underwrote the $157,000 cost of the schematic designs, insisted the design include an out-county facility.

"Local communities told us they want court facilities out-county, and the LEAA insisted jail facilities be included."

"I don't believe there is any way we can get the necessary support for the concept of an out-county court-house without jail facilities being the companion to it."

"Jail facilities are for holding defendants while they are awaiting trial. An out-county jail would strengthen the argument for an out-county court-house. But without the extra clout, I don't think we can muster the votes for an out-county court facility."

Lesinski noted court officials have misgivings about the practicality of out-county courts, and commissioners from Detroit generally favor keeping the courts downtown.

"Turning down the out-county complex was short-sighted," Lesinski charged. "It would have meant additional jobs and business in the area and would have helped relieve congestion in downtown Detroit."

DESIGN of the jail facilities was done jointly by three firms—Giffels Assoc., Inc.; Howard Sirfs & Assoc.; and Sidney E. Shorter & Assoc.

In addition to its 400 jail cells, the downtown facility would have a 100-bed lockup for Detroit Police Headquarters. The eight-story building is designed so that it could be expanded to add 350 cells.

Mrs. Dumas challenged the Detroit lockup section of the proposal, asking who would pay for it. If the county should pay for Detroit's lockup, then it should pay for Livonia's, she suggested.

Cost of the two facilities is pegged at about $40 million, a sum not available at this time. Proposals are pending in state and federal governments to help fund the facilities.

Taylor proposes program to head off payless days

WAYNE COUNTY—Commissioner Tom F. Taylor (D-Westland), warning of payless paydays for some 7,700 county employees, Wednesday made a five-point proposal to head off a budget deficit he anticipates to be $12 million.

Taylor, whose district includes Garden City and part of Westland, said he was submitting his program "in light of the apparent hesitancy of this board of commissioners to deal with this impending crisis."

He referred to two meetings he chaired during the last two months.

"The first of these meetings lasted eight hours and the only thing that came out of it was a proposal for a new spending program," he said. "The second meeting on May 2 lasted two hours and had to be called off because there were not enough commissioners present at the meeting to legally conduct business."

The Westland Democrat said, "The usual cost-saving devices which traditionally keep governmental budgets in balance are not going to be sufficient or adequate to meet this crisis."

A freeze on vacant positions already in effect is not expected to reduce the deficit by more than $6 million, Taylor said. This will still leave a $6 million deficit by his calculations.

The county's deficit was posted at $8.8 million last week according to county fiscal experts.

Taylor noted the county does not have the right to deficit spend as does the federal government. "This means that if sufficient and adequate measures are not immediately taken, payless paydays could become a reality in Wayne County by October and November of this year," he warned.

Taylor's proposal to cut the deficit includes:

• A 10 per cent across the board pay reduction for all elected county officials, appointees, department heads and deputies—as an act of good faith and by way of setting the example expected of elected officials.

• Immediate halt to all out of state travel at county expense except in the most extreme cases and then only for those persons who are absolutely necessary to the purpose of the trip.

• A call on the chairman of the Wayne County General Hospital Governing Board and the dean of the University of Michigan Medical School to jointly come in with a proposal for the immediate opening up of Wayne County General Hospital to private physicians in the community.

• A moratorium on all new spending proposals unless the proposal is accompanied by a recommendation of a specific budget reduction equal to the cost of the new proposal.

• Upon passage of the first two items, the county should call a meeting with all labor leaders representing county employees to discuss other possible cost savings to the county such as a cost-of-living freeze and foregoing newly negotiated wage increases.

Hand signal law changes in effect

For the first time bicycle riders in Michigan are now required to give different hand signals when they are making turns, stopping or decreasing speed.

Under a new law passed in late December, bicyclists and drivers of vehicles not equipped with mechanical or electrical signals now are required to give the following signals:

Left turn—hand and arm extend horizontally.

Right turn—hand and arm extended upward.

Stop or decrease speed—hand and arm extended downward.

These signals now conform with the national uniform vehicle code. Previously, Michigan hand and arm signals did not conform with those to extend their arm horizontally outside the vehicle to indicate turning, stopping or decreasing speed.

The Traffic Association of Detroit advises bike riders to stay in the lane closest to the curb and obey intersection signal lights. Only adult riders should make left turns from the middle of a busy street, it advises.

Chamber prepares for first trade fair

CANTON—Plans are well under way for the Belleville-Canton Chamber of Commerce "Spring Trade Fair" scheduled for May 16-18 at the Wayne County Fairgrounds in Belleville.

Businesses and industry from all over western Wayne county will be displaying and selling their wares. More than 150 exhibitors are currently scheduled for the fair.

Included in the business exhibits will be new cars, gas grills, musical instruments, forgings, unfinished furniture, plastics, packaging equipment, encyclopedias, wallpaper and paint, horticultural supplies, construction equipment, outdoor furniture, and nursery stock.

In addition to the indoor plants that will be for sale, bedding plants, flowers, and produce will be sold by area farmers and greenhouses in time for mid-May planting.

Arts and crafts displays by local artists will be featured. They will include oil paintings, glass blown items, pottery, ceramics, macrame, metal sculpture, wood carvings, tableau art, silver and jade jewelry, and china painting.

Entertainment for Friday evening, May 16 will include a performance by the Crossmen, a country gospel group beginning at 7 p.m. A Saturday matinee and evening performance will be presented by Joe Prater and the Huron Valley Boys, a Michigan country western group.

On Sunday, a speed and action horse show will begin at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day. It is sponsored by the Mustangs 4-H club of Belleville and will feature keg-bending, and relay and rescue races.

A featured exhibit at the fair will be a display of antique modified cars dating from a 1923 Model T Ford to a 1955 Chevrolet with custom interiors, paint and engines. The display, sponsored by the Ypsilanti-Area Street Rods Club, will include pickups, touring cars, and coupes, many of which have appeared at Greenfield Village and Cobo Hall.

The spring fair is sponsored by the Canton and Belleville Area Chambers of Commerce and is the first event of its kind in Western Wayne County.

Persons in Canton wishing booth rental information may contact the chamber office at 41652 Ford Road. Tickets will be available at the chamber office and at Meijers Thrifty Acres at the corner of Canton Center and Ford.

Suburban water group recommends changes

The suburban water committee this week issued a series of recommendations to the Legislature for remedial action to prevent a recurrence of the ongoing hassle between the Detroit Water Board of Commissioners over proposed rate hikes.

The suburban water committee has analyzed current problems in the way in which proposed water rates are determined and is now considering specific legislative action to correct those problems.

ONE OF THE PROBLEMS is that representation of suburban interests on the Detroit Water Board isn't guaranteed, stated Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara in a report to committee members.

Under the Detroit charter, the memo reports, non-Detroit members of the seven-person board may number no more than three, and may be excluded entirely.

"Considering suburban dollars now account for about 65 per cent of the total Detroit Metropolitan Water Department budget," the committee states, "this formula of board makeup no longer provides equal representation for all water users."

SUBURBAN OFFICIALS are also concerned that the Detroit Water Department isn't currently required to be audited annually by an outside agency.

"Without such a periodic independent audit, it is impossible to judge with certainty the necessity of any proposed rate change. Likewise, it is impossible to determine the breakdown between Detroit and suburban dollars in the system, and how those dollars are being spent."

"The board of water commissioners isn't currently required to hold public hearings before a proposed rate change. Similarly, once a rate change has been made, the decision isn't subject to appeal. This is inconsistent when compared with regulations imposed on other public utilities."

TO ELIMINATE these inequities, the suburban water committee at a recent meeting discussed proposing the following:

- Legislation requiring an immediate audit of the Detroit Metropolitan Water Department by an outside auditor.

- Legislation to require that cities of more than one million population and owning their own water systems be audited annually by an outside auditor.

- Legislation revising both the makeup requirements and appointment procedures of the water board so it may become more representative of all water customers.

This could be done, the committee believes, by enlarging the current board to include equal numbers of Detroit and suburban members.

"Regardless of the formula used," states McNamara, "suburban communities must have a greater voice in who shall be their representatives on the water board than at present."

- Legislation to specify formal steps which must be taken before any rate change — to include, but not limited to, a public hearing or hearings.

The committee also wants provisions for a formalized appeal procedure of any water board rate-related decisions.

The recommendations were discussed by the committee April 29 and are expected to be forwarded to the Legislature by the end of May.

Museum: 'Lots of work'

By W.W. EDGAR

PLYMOUTH— Phillip Mroczkowski, newly appointed director of the Plymouth Historical Museum, stood at the head of the newly constructed Main Street that dominate the museum's first floor, and solemnly contemplated the future.

It was only his fourth day on the job of preparing the museum for a grand opening some time in the not too distant future, but he was quick to say:

"This museum can be just as fine as the people in the community want it to be. There is a fine potential here, more than you would find in a large city, but it will require a lot of work and help from the community."

THE NEW DIRECTOR confided that he has no idea of when the museum will be ready for a public opening.

Asked if it might be sometime this fall, he answered, "I just can't pin down a date. We will do the work as best we can and hope that the opening won't be too far away."

It has been almost two years since the Dunning Memorial Building that houses the museum, was dedicated. Meanwhile, hours and hours of work by many dedicated individuals, have produced some idea of the enchantment the building will hold for young and old alike when it is opened.

For instance, there is Main Street with old-fashioned shops on either side of the brick paving. These shops include a general store, a doll house, a display by the Daisy Co and what Margaret Dunning, donor of the building, refers to her house, complete with a front porch.

Along with these is an old-time railroad station that will bring back memories of commuting between Detroit and Ann Arbor.

"STREETS LIKE these are not prevalent in today's museums," the new director said. "The old street in the Detroit Historical Museum, is an exception.

"The idea is a great one," he continued, "and this one stands out for its completeness."

Thus far, the building has been used only as a meeting place for the Historical Society, but these sessions are held in the basement until such time as the multitudinous articles can be prepared for display.

But the job is started and well on its way with the new director on location every day.

Glenn exchange students learn hard facts of American life

By SHERRY KAHAN

WESTLAND—Two young men from South America studying at John Glenn High School are learning there is more to this country than Cadillacs and movie stars.

"I didn't know very much about the U.S.," admits Mario Nieva, who is from Tucuman, Argentina, but who now lives in Westland with the John Pandel family.

"I thought the U.S. had big cities, lots of actors and actresses in Hollywood and a big car industry. I believed Americans were rich."

Mario Guevara, whose home is in Barranquilla, Colombia, when he is not living with the Bob Dalton family of Westland, has discovered democracy.

"I NEVER SAW how it works before," he says. "Here you can say President Ford is a dummy and not get in trouble. If I said something like that in Colombia, I'd be in trouble."

"When I go back I will talk to the principal of my school and tell him how they do things here."

Guevara especially appreciates the fact that he can select his courses at Glenn. "In Colombia everyone has to take the same seven classes."

Nieva agrees that "there is more freedom in American school life."

He also has been astonished to learn that Americans do more than study at school.

"We go to school in Colombia only to study," he notes. "I like the way the students here like their school and participate in school activities like the newspaper and clubs. We don't have class rings or graduation ceremonies, and to me it is important to have these things."

AT THAT MOMENT Glenn counselor, Cyrus Webber, interrupted the boys to tease them about their interest in such things as class rings. Webber, who speaks Spanish, has helped both foreign students in those school problems that kept losing something in the translation.

Nieva likes the idea of having a counselor to whom they can turn, and with whom he can kid around. He and Guevara both had a number of inside Spanish jokes to chortle about with Webber.

"Both boys seem to be delighted to be here," says Webber. "They really enjoy it. Their command of English is improving all the time, and they get along well with the students."

One of the reasons for Nieva's delight in the school is girls. In Argentina, boys and girls are separated. However, Guevara's school in Colombia enrolls both sexes.

"THIS IS AN EXPERIENCE for me," grins Nieva. "Girls have more freedom here. In my country the girls can't do some things because the church won't let them."

"If they are under 18 and go out with a boy, they must be with an adult. If over 18 they can go dancing, to the movies or a party by themselves. There are no restrictions for boys."

Neither South American visitor had heard the term "women's lib," a phrase that can also lose something in the translation.

"Here I arrange my bed," said Nieva, adding that he also makes his bed at home. "But I don't do any housework there. The girls clean the floors and prepare food because later they will be housewives. Women like to be housewives."

"It surprised me to see boys washing dishes here."

Guevara was similarly astonished that "guys cook and wash floors."

AT HOME he doesn't have to make his bed or wash dishes. His family employs three servants.

Chamber to bring circus to Cultural Center 'arena'

PLYMOUTH—Lions, elephants, clowns and trapeze artists will be in Plymouth May 17 and 18 when the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce presents a circus in the cultural center.

Three shows will be presented Saturday, May 17, at 1, 4 and 8 p.m. On Sunday, there will be performances at 2 and 5 p.m.

The circus will offer animal acts, including Gary Bronke and his African lions who will perform inside a steel arena. Bronke, at 19 years of age, is billed as the world's youngest wild animal trainer.

Mickey Antalek and his five chimpanzees will be on hand, coming directly from a four-year stint with Ringling Brother, Barnum and Bailey circus.

Another attraction will be Miss Liana who will offer a canine revue. Barbara and the lovely llamas of Peru will present unusual animal entertainment.

Trained elephants, the ones who visited Plymouth's Kellogg Park last Tuesday, will perform under the direction of trainer, Walter King.

Aerial acts will also be a part of the international circus, featuring Miss Cookie and her high flying trapeze, hanging from the top of the center's girders.

The international aerial ballet, featuring the Dianne Sisters on long Spanish webs, will be another feature.

No circus is complete without clowns, so the chamber event has scheduled Al Ross, "King of the Clowns" to preside over clown alley.

Reduced rate advance tickets are now on sale at the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, 878 Wing street, and at the Cultural Center box office. Tickets are also available at many local businesses in Plymouth.

Advance prices are $1.50 for children, $2.50 for adults. There is a special family ticket offering of $8 which admits two adults and three children.

The chamber said no family tickets will be sold on show days. Tickets sold on the days of the show will cost $2 for children and $3 for adults.

ONE OF THE FUN THINGS about the U.S. is to kid around with your counselor. Here Mario Guevara (left) and Mario Nieva ex-

Canton, Westland businessmen are fighting consumer laws

ordinance does cover a lot of ground. The section dealing with refusal to issue a license which reads, "Conducting a business in an unlawful manner or in such a manner as to constitute a breach of the peace or to constitute a menace to the health, morals, safety or welfare of the public" could prevent a business establishment from being licensed.

PERHAPS THE BIGGEST gripe merchants have with the Westland ordinance is it would allow city officials to inspect books as well as property for ordinance infractions. McKinney has responded to businessmen's complaints saying, "I'm not interested in getting involved in business affairs. You can explain your profits and losses to the Internal Revenue Service."

Businessmen in Canton are equally dissatisfied with the consumer protection agency ordinance proposed by Trustee Robert Myers. They feel it provides for a duplication of services already offered by the Better Business Bureau and the Wayne County Consumer Protection Agency.

At a public hearing held in early April, they assaulted the proposal. "We're overlicensed to death already," said one merchant. Another added, "This is a two way street. They're as many crooks on the street as there are in business."

Bart Berg, president of the Canton chamber, was irritated licensing fees businessmen would pay would go to fund the agency. "That's asking us to pay for our own punishment," he said. Berg also found fault with the ordinance in that businessmen would receive nothing in return for licensing fees. "This thing about paying for the privilege of operating a business in Canton is for the birds," he commented.

Proponents of the ordinance say it would "create a better environment for businessmen to operate in where they would be free from innuendo." While designed primarily as an arbitrating authority, the agency could subpoena people and information as well as revoke licenses. The agency would be composed of one township board representative and four or five citizens.

TOWNSHIPS received the right to license businesses in December 1974 when the state legislature passed Public Act 375. It gives them the same power cities have had for years. Backers of the bill said it was to prevent the "spillover of bad businesses into the townships."

While the consumer ordinance would give the agency the right to license, no licensing ordinance has been drafted. That ordinance would establish the fee schedule and the specifics of the licensing.

Canton attorney Peter Bundarin, who helped draft the consumer agency legislation, said, "I can't see why anyone would be against a consumer protection agency. Most of the concern is about the fees, and the licensing and who would be licensed. That will be in a separate ordinance."

The business community in Canton seems to have mixed emotions about being licensed locally. Berg has said he doesn't mind the licensing, rather he is disturbed over the subpoena power that would be granted to the consumer agency and the fact that the agency, rather than the township board, would be doing the licensing. Other merchants, however, have said they are already "over regulated and licensed."

BOTH WESTLAND and Canton officials agree, however, that the licensing ordinance is not a revenue measure. McKinney said, "One thing this ordinance isn't is a revenue generator. While administering a city with a $15 million budget, I wouldn't want to think we are dependent on $25 a year from businessmen."

Garden plots are readied

CANTON—Early planters take note—the township gardening program is under way. Weather permitting, the first of two sites should be ready to use by the start of next week, according to recreation director Brenda Pollack.

The plots are 25 by 50 feet and are plowed, disked and staked—for free. Until June 2, there is a limit of one per family.

Two sites will be used this year: 20 acres at the corner of Warren and Lilley (last year's site); and 40 acres on Warren between Sheldon and Lilley. Together they will provide more than 1,000 plots.

Those interested in working one of the garden plots should contact Mrs. Pollack at the township fire hall, or call the township offices, located at 44508 Geddes Road.

If any plots are left after June 2, applications will be accepted for those desiring additional space to garden.

According to Mrs. Pollack, portable toilets and a recreation area will be available at the garden sites this year. A bulletin board will be provided at the recreation areas to keep gardeners aware of aid and information available from the county extension service.

How the proposed telephone rate hike would affect area

The $88 million rate increase asked by Michigan Bell would raise one-party service by 80 cents from $6.15 to $6.95 a month in Livonia, Plymouth and Garden City.

Two-party monthly residence service would increase by 50 cents from $4.65 to $5.15 per month.

The monthly charge for one-party measured business service would remain at $5.80 but the charge for each local message would be seven cents, up from the present six cents each.

THE INCREASE is needed to save jobs and to continue to provide quality telephone service, explains David K. Easlick, president of Michigan Bell.

"All we are asking for in this rate case is the right to earn what is needed to keep persons on the payroll and to do our service job."

The petition Michigan Bell filed with the Michigan Public Service Commission (PSC) stresses new rates aren't intended to increase its authorized profit level.

The company pointed out it hasn't earned the authorized profit level in several years and the proposed hike would only raise its earnings closer to what the PSC already has set as fair and reasonable.

Even with the increase, Easlick adds, Michigan Bell rates would remain among the lowest in the country.

THE COMPANY is proposing increases in one-party residence service ranging from 25 cents a month in Detroit to 70 cents in the smallest out-state exchanges.

The company's proposal also calls for increasing coin telephone charges from 10 to 20 cents.

There would be increases in local messages, intrastate long distance and interzone calls, Wide Area Telecommunications Service (WATS), residence extensions and in various business services.

Bell asks that about $60 million of its total request be granted as interim relief while the overall case is in progress. Most of the interim increase is needed, Easlick adds, to meet higher payroll and pension costs.

Despite an austerity program in effect since last June which caused a decrease of 1,300 jobs through attrition, Easlick says, Bell's earnings on its facilities within the state slumped to 6.54 per cent in 1974 — a 15-year low.

The increase will permit Bell to sustain its record construction programs, he explained. "In contrast with the state's power companies which have had to severely curtail expansion programs, Michigan Bell is spending more than $400 million annually on construction."

Any cutbacks in its construction program quickly would be reflected in service and jobs, he added. "Not only among our own work force, but among the 10,000 jobs our programs now support in other state industries. With almost 30,000 employees, Michigan Bell is the state's fourth largest private employer."

Easlick concludes that Bell's rates have increased by only 25.3 per cent since 1967, compared with a 56 per cent increase in the Consumer Price Index.

Crudder takes scholarship

KEVIN CRUDDER

Cellist Kevin Crudder is the 1975 winner of the Plymouth Symphony Society's Isbister Memorial Scholarship. Crudder and eight other Plymouth School District students received some $650 in scholarships at the society's annual meeting Monday in Central Middle School. Wayne Dunlap, musical director of the orchestra, made the presentations after an earlier audition.

A senior at Plymouth Canton High School, Crudder will attend the University of Kansas in fall. The $100 scholarship was named for Russell Isbister, late superintendent of Plymouth schools. Crudder is a member of the Plymouth Symphony.

Other winners are:

Donna Folks, violin, a senior at Plymouth Salem High School who plans to attend Eastern Michigan University.

Cheri Neal, violin, a ninth grader at Canton.

Rebecca Nichols, violin, a sophomore at Salem.

Marion Heindryckx, violin, a Salem sophomore.

Kathy Stein, violin, a senior at Salem who plans to attend the University of Michigan in fall.

Kathy Harrington, violin, a junior at Salem.

Brian Bennett, viola, a junior at Canton.

Lisa Toth, violin, a senior at Canton who plans to attend Schoolcraft College in fall.

The new round of scholarships brings to more than $8,000 the amount the Plymouth Symphony Society has awarded over the years, Dunlap said.

He's selected for NASA investigation

PLYMOUTH—Richard F. Nalepka, of Plymouth, has been chosen as principal investigator in the NASA Earth Resources Survey Program.

Nalepka will analyze photographic and other data collected by LANDSTAT 1 and 2 satellites. His study is entitled "Proposal to make wheat production forecasts using LANDSAT and aircraft remote sensing data."

The Plymouth resident was one of 93 new investigators chosen from a field of 669 who will work on 300 projects that have been started as the result of LANDSAT 1, launched in July 1972.

Practical applications of the investigator's work include: Updating maps, accurately estimating the acreage of farm crops, identifying previously unknown geological features (particularly those important for the detection of minerals and possible earthquake zones) and accurately depicting areas covered by water for flood relief and control, and water management.

SC journalism contest salutes top high schoolers

Southfield-Lathrup's "Dimensions" was named best paper among 20 entries submitted in a high school journalism contest sponsored by Schoolcraft Community College.

More than 300 individual articles also were submitted for judging in what the college hopes will be an annual event.

Livonia Stevenson won five prizes for individual entries. North Farmington took four and Farmington and Our Lady of Mercy High Schools took three each. Livonia Churchill and Redford Thurston took one prize each.

THE CONTEST was divided into five categories: best paper, best news-writing, opinions, sports and features.

Cash awards of $15, $10 and $5 were given winners of first, second and third places and two honorable mentions were cited.

Redford Thurston High's "Insight" took second place in the best paper classification. Honorable mentions were given Stevenson's "Spotlight" and the Northville High School "Mustanger." There was no third place award.

First prize in newswriting went to Craig Newman of North Farmington for an article on incompetent teachers.

Other first prize winners were Brian Lynch of Stevenson in the opinion category; Joe Centers of Stevenson in sports; and Kim Overton of Churchill in features.

SECOND PLACES went to Joanne Lane and Brian Lynch of Stevenson for a joint news article on student absences; Larry Consentino of Southfield-Lathrup for an opinion piece on the "menace of tardiness;" Rochelle Marie Rizzo of Our Lady of Mercy for a sports piece on horse lovers; and Penny Faber of Our Lady of Mercy for a feature contrasting the Great Depression and current recession.

Third place winners were Sue Sussex of Stevenson in both newswriting and sports; Bill Cline of Farmington High in opinions; and Judy Phillips of Redford Thurston in features.

Honorable mentions were awarded Dave Renbarger of North Farmington and Brian Lynch of Stevenson in newswriting; Renbarger and also John Finnell of Farmington High in sports; Nancy Lindsay of Southfield-Lathrup and Wendy Wilbur of Our Lady of Mercy in opinions; and Patrick Eagan of Farmington High and Nancy Rogier of North Farmington High in features.

TIM RICHARD, Wayne County editor of the Observer & Eccentric newspapers who judged the "best paper" category, praised the first place Southfield-Lathrup paper for its "good hard news coverage."

"It tells what's going on and is student-oriented," Richard said.

Other judges were Jack Hoffman, editor-in-chief of the Northville Record, for newswriting; Christine Brown, general assignment and entertainment writer for the Detroit Free Press, for opinions; Fred DeLano, news editor of the Observer & Eccentric newspapers for sports; and Martha Mahan of the Observer & Eccentric for features.

Winners were announced at a luncheon attended by 240 area high school journalists and their sponsors.

Principal speaker was Charley Manos, Detroit News columnist. Others were Dr. C. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft president, and Douglas Johnson, the college newspaper's advisor and contest organizer.

Keith insists public knows snags in teacher bargaining

By MARTHA MAHAN

LANSING—Rep. William Keith (D-Garden City) says he won't vote for his own bill to control teacher strikes unless a provision is retained for public disclosure of bargaining table differences after a mediation fails.

"I believe in labor unions and I believe in collective bargaining," Keith said, "and I know you can't negotiate in public. But when public funds and public employees and children are involved, the people have a right to know what the issues are and I'm going to fight for public disclosure."

Keith also broke with Democratic leadership to oppose a "compromise" plan which would legalize teacher strikes lasting up to five weeks at the beginning of the school year.

The concept would allow teachers to strike for three weeks at the onset of a school year without any loss of pay and for two more weeks if they were willing to forego salary.

After that, a court would automatically order the strike ended and would have the power to order compulsory arbitration.

KEITH, chairman of a special House committee to devise school strike legislation, joined minority Republicans in rejecting the proposal as "destroying the balance of the bargaining power."

"If I were a teacher," Keith said, "I wouldn't give away a marble at the bargaining table until after the three-weeks free strike."

"If I were a school board member in the second week of a free strike, I wouldn't give on anything either until the three weeks was past and the teachers began to be hit in the pocket-book."

"Meantime, the boys and girls suffer a five week strike."

The Democrat-supported plan was developed at a four-day marathon discussions of representatives of the Michigan Education Association (MEA), Michigan Teachers Federation, Michigan School Board Association and Michigan Association of School Administrators.

A spokesman for Gov. Milliken also expressed reservations about the proposal.

"We have been talking about how to keep strikes from starting," said the governor's education aide, James Phelps. "Now we're talking about how we're going to stop them once they've started. That's a complete change in agenda."

ALSO WITHHOLDING support from the measure was Keith Geiger, president of the MEA whose 85,000 members include 25,000 university and college employees. He took exception to the plan because it failed to provide for the latter.

The expressions of disapproval left the bill mired still deeper in the House committee with legislative leaders unsure just when or in what chamber a school strike bill will be introduced.

Opposition of the Republican minority to the five-week strike concept was seen by some as killing any chance it could be turned into law and take effect this year.

Two-thirds Senate and House votes would be required for any bill passed to take immediate effect.

None of the four organizations which hammered out the proposal has ratified it. However, the central concept was praised as "fair" by Democratic House Speaker Bobby Crim and Sen. William B. Fitzgerald (D-Detroit), Senate majority leader.

Markes dissents on jail ombudsman

Area legislators followed party lines in voting with the Democratic majority to increase both jobless benefits and employer contributions to unemployment compensation funds.

The House on April 24 passed the measure, 76-30.

In another legislative action April 24, Rep. John Markes (D-Westland) was the only area lawmaker voting in opposition as the House passed the Senate-approved bill to create the job of legislative corrections ombudsman within the Department of Corrections. The vote was 79-27.

Voting in favor of the boost in unemployment benefits were Democratic Reps. John Bennett of Redford Township, Thomas Brown of Westland, William Keith of Garden City and John Markes, also of Westland.

Republican Rep. Robert Geake of Northville voted against the measure. Republican Rep. Roy Smith of Ypsilanti, whose district covers most of Plymouth, was not recorded as voting.

Voting for creating the post of ombudsman were Reps. Bennett, Geake, Keith and Smith. Rep. Brown was absent when the vote was taken.

Geake's district includes most of Livonia.

Markes also was the sole area legislator in opposition as the House on April 29 passed 93-11 a bill allowing members of a county board to serve on county planning commissions.

Favorable votes on a bill to permit a three-mill levy by local governments for garbage disposal bonds were cast April 29 by Reps. Brown, Geake, Keith and Smith. Reps. Bennett and Markes voted against the proposal which lost, 49-57. A motion for reconsideration at a later date prevailed.

Jeanne Beck elected new vice chairman

Mrs. Jeanne Beck of Farmington has been elected vice chairman of the Metropolitan Detroit Advertising Media Group of the National Credit Association.

Mrs. Beck is credit manager of the Suburban Communications Corp.'s Detroit division, publishers of the Observer & Eccentric. She lives with her husband Roland at 33006 Slocum.

OBSERVER & ECCENTRIC CARRIERS DON'T HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT SUMMER JOBS

When school lets out for summer break, many students start looking for summer jobs ... anything, just to make a little money. But Observer & Eccentric carriers don't have to worry about these scarce summer jobs. They have a job all year long. And it only takes a few hours a week. That leaves plenty of time for study during the school year, and lots of time for fun during the summer.

Besides earning money, Observer & Eccentric carriers gain valuable experience in operating their own business ventures: learning how to deal pleasantly with people, the responsibility of collecting and keeping proper records, and the value of dependability. Carriers also have a chance to grow in self-sufficiency and self-esteem. Throughout the year, special prizes, trips, and other bonuses reward the carriers for good service and work habits.

It's a great way to earn money all year long without giving up the other things in life. For more information on Observer & Eccentric routes, call the Circulation Department today, or mail the coupon below.

Metro-West settles strike

By DENNY COFFMAN

WESTLAND—About 500 members of Local 42 of the Office and Professional Employees International Union (OPEIU) are returning to their jobs at Metropolitan Hospital this week after ratifying a two-year contract Monday.

The settlement ends a three-week strike by office workers, dieticians, maintenance workers, medical attendants and accounting personnel at Metro-West in Westland, Metropolitan Hospital in Detroit and four clinics.

Scattered incidents of violence had taken place at the Detroit hospital during the strike and two persons picketing Metro-West had been arrested for May 2 disturbing the peace.

Local 42 had been working without a contract with hospital since Feb. 1 and voted to strike April 17.

ALTHOUGH hospital administrator William Rothman expects both hospitals and four clinics to return to normal operations Monday, union members doubt that possibility.

According to Carol Hollman, a member of the Metro-West strike committee, the hospitals and clinics probably will lay off some employees by Monday because of current economic conditions.

Many patients are UAW members who are out of work and cannot keep up their hospital-medical insurance premiums, explains Mrs. Hollman.

THE NEW CONTRACT is the result of a May 2 bargaining session with a federal mediator and representatives of the UAW-ran hospital and union. It was ratified Monday by union membership by a vote of 241-33.

Hospital administrator William Rothman called the contract "fair," and Carole Dembinski, speaking for the OPEIU hospital workers, called it a "compromise."

It offers an hourly pay increase of 30 cents per hour retroactive to Feb. 1, and an additional 20 cents per hour one year from the date of signing. Sickness and accident benefits take effect June 1976.

THE CONTRACT, according to Mrs. Dembinski, does not allow the union to pass out strike literature or hold meetings on hospital premises, a right union members had wanted.

"We think it's a good contract, especially in the present economic situation," said Mrs. Dembinski. "At least it will give us a basis to continue to strive for a better contract."

"We found out who our friends and who our enemies are and exposed the UAW, the police and the courts," she stated.

A Wayne County Circuit Court judge had ordered that no strike benefits be paid to strikers because their walkout was not sanctioned by international union leaders in New York. The benefits would have amounted to $20 a week from local strike funds, for a period of two weeks. However, the union claimed it had received hundreds of dollars in donations from sympathetic hospital workers not on strike and from passers-by.

"We learned," said Mrs. Dembinski, "that the local will not stick up for us." Mabel Holleran, president of Local 42, had never declared whether she approved the strike.

After the ratification vote Monday, Rothman said the contract "keeps our workers in the forefront of the hospital industry."

Registration is May 12 at WSU

Graduation parties leave bitter taste

Hundreds of young persons and many of their fine parents are doomed to disappointment this spring when their parties go awry.

The pattern is familiar: It's high school graduation time; mom and dad are proud of their offspring and wish to reward them with a party; for some reason the party is raided by the cops; ugly words are exchanged; perhaps there are arrests; the parents get a formal summons; they plan to hire a lawyer and fight but finally decide the heck with it and pay a stiff fine. Bitterness.

BEFORE-ME is a letter from a man whose handwriting indicates he is elderly. The details must be withheld because the matter is potentially libelous, but his basic reaction is fairly typical:

"An open letter of thanks to the officers of the numerous police departments who responded to a distress call from residents in the — area. . . A riotous party which attracted over a hundred young hoodlums was held at a house at —. They parked cars in private parking areas, in driveways and even on lawns and littered the area with all kinds of trash.

"The officers who responded did a fine job of dispersing the mob and restoring peace to the neighborhood."

Other letters have a similar ring: Hordes of young people, shouting obscenities, urinating behind the bushes, and on and on.

THE OTHER SIDE of the coin was told to me by a father whose party was the object of such a complaint last year:

"Hey, these are good kids—not inner city roughnecks. They've worked hard to graduate.

"Sure, some of their words are the four-letter kind, but that's the way people talk today—it's in the movies all the time, and on TV.

"That urinating incident—sure, the house was crowded, and both Johns were in use, so one kid went in the yard behind the bushes. It was only one kid!

"And the cops—they didn't have to act like they were breaking up a blind pig on 12th Street. The kids were just having fun; they were a little boisterous.

"That old biddy who complained—she's had it in for our kids for years. Jeez, you want to know something about her kid."

IT'S EASY to reconstruct what happened, and the truth is probably mid-way between the two versions you've just read.

A couple dozen kids were invited, and a hundred showed up. The neighbors are elderly and have the old folks' instinctive fear of loud young voices, so they call the police.

A cop appears at the party; even though his behavior is polite, the young people are graced that anyone would consider their merriment criminal. Don't the cops have anything more important to do than hassle respectable high school graduates having a few beers?

THE SOLUTION is for parents to recognize that everything done at a party must be interpreted in the worst possible light—in advance.

Can your quiet residential street really accommodate 80 cars? Is there even a remote chance the party will spill outdoors? Does even one of your neighbors get up early next morning to go to work or church?

If you still want to give your very fine youngster a graduation party, and a big one, wouldn't it be smart to hire a hall that has plenty of space, plenty of Johns, plenty of parking and a commercially zoned location?

NEVER THOUGHT ABOUT IT? THINK ABOUT IT!

Let Doorkeeper do it

Last week, the effort in Lansing to cobble up a new law regulating teacher strikes by means of letting the lobbyists write it collapsed. And a good thing, too.

Perhaps you recall the background.

The rash of teacher strikes in suburban districts last fall (including particularly serious ones in the Garden City and Crestwood districts) badly disrupted the education of thousands of students. Public outcry provoked action from the State Legislature, which placed Garden City's Rep. William Keith in charge of a committee to hold hearings, and write a bill.

Keith, who has great experience in this area, and his committee labored hard and came up with a measure which would provide a limited right to strike, a tough bargaining timetable, a last-offer arbitration system, and financial penalties for both teachers and school systems if strikes actually happened.

No one (meaning in this case the teacher unions, the school board association and the school administrators) liked the proposal -- a pretty good indication, in my view, that it was fair to all.

INTENSE LOBBYING developed against the Keith bill by these special interest groups, and the theory began to get around that it would be better to retain the existing legal mess, which permitted all the strikes and confusion last fall, than to pass any new legislation.

Then the State Supreme Court, in a bombshell decision, held that Crestwood School District had the right to fire the teachers who struck it illegally last year. Everyone (meaning in this case mostly the teacher unions) immediately decided a new law was in fact desperately needed.

Only problem was, how to get agreement on the new law? The teachers, the school board people, and the school administrators were all lobbying furiously, refusing to budge an inch.

The solution was novel. Do explicitly what has been done quietly in Lansing for a long time: Let the lobbyists do it.

So the Legislature told the lobbyists to lock themselves into a room to negotiate a new law they all could live with, and when they emerged, the Legislature would pass it.

Of course, the bill they came up with after days of marathon bargaining protected the inter-

"In the United States, each community . . . organizes and manages its own schools."

That's the opening sentence which you will find in the essay of one particular encyclopedia after thumbing through the S's to "School Boards."

Now you and I both know, that since such a traditionalist interpretation first was written, there has been a court-ordered modification as to racial balance. Yet on Monday, June 9, the electors in virtually every school district of Michigan will be asked to vote for board of education candidates with reference, in the main, only to local issues.

YOU WHO HAVE spent the past 12 months lambasting incumbents for their restricted vision, you who damn the special interest favoritism you say permeates your own particular board, you who wish to share your own God-given intelligence and educational objectivity with your community now have the chance to step forward.

Deadline in every school district for filing nominating petitions to gain a place on the ballot is 4 p.m. this upcoming Monday, May 12.

Although the number of signatures of registered voters needed on a petition varies from district to district, the requirement is so minimal as to allow most of you who are heaven-sent to gain them within your own friendly neighborhood.

When elected, you will have every right -- and this is meant seriously -- to add the letters PS after your signature to any document, just as you might PhD, AB, ad infinitum. But in this case it will mean Public Servant.

Observation Point

by PHILIP H. POWER

ests of the teachers, the school boards and the school administrators. It had only one defect -- it clearly did not prevent long strikes which hurt students and parents. Which was why the effort collapsed.

IN THE AFTERMATH of this interesting experiment in law-making, a modest proposal seems in order.

Eliminate the jobs of all state legislators. Elect instead, state-wide, a State Doorkeeper, whose qualifications include large size, firm willpower, and control over the key supply for all offices in Lansing.

When the time comes for new legislation, under my plan, the governor or the courts or even the public would signal the State Doorkeeper of the need. His responsibility would be to collar all the lobbyists in Lansing with an interest in the subject, lock them into a room until they came up with a law they all could live with, and briskly dispatch the text to the governor for signature.

The advantages of this proposal are clear. It would save money, because since the salaries of the legislators and their staffs, together with their expenses for fixing up offices and mailing us thinly disguised campaign pieces at election time, would be eliminated.

It would save time in getting needed legislation passed, because I forgot to mention that the State Doorkeeper would keep the lobbyists locked in their negotiating rooms without food.

It would make explicit the role of lobbyists in the legislative process, and media coverage would direct public attention at their activities.

And lastly, it might remind those inclined to carp about such things that in the last analysis the function of our legislators is to serve the public's needs and not that of the various special interest groups which today so infest Lansing.

Your school board may need YOU!

Fred DeLano writes

WE NEED YOU to run. We want your impartial, systematic mind that is able to establish priorities without fear or favor. We need your financial acumen, your grasp of the changing educational demands of a progressive generation, your delicate touch that can bring compromise from the chaos of union confrontations, your tender but forceful sense of discipline, and maybe above all your sensitive callousness (or should be callous sensitivity?) to public abuse when you stand your ground and back up your judgment with reason.

These next three days are your chance to get those petitions and become that involved. Or get behind someone else you'd like to see on your board. Just don't complain afterward that you had no voice in the decisions.

An institutional rarity

An era will pass when Brookside School Cranbrook closes its doors for the summer.

Flora Leslie, head of the food service, has reached the magic age and will retire.

She has been with Cranbrook Schools for 40 years. Considering that they celebrated their 50th anniversary only two years ago, Flora has become an institution.

But no one looks upon Flora as a legend.

TO ME, FLORA is synonymous with food—good food—which is a rarity in institutions.

Since the late '30s she has been at Brookside, which includes kindergarten to sixth grade.

When we were little tykes, we weren't the most agile with eating utensils, so over the years she developed recipes which require a minimum of knife.

After being hounded for years by mothers, she published a cook book five years ago so that parents could fix the food at home the same way kids got it at school.

It was a shock to me, and I'm sure the other kids, when they left Brookside and had to eat high school institutional food.

THE SCHOOL LUNCH program under Flora is an important part of the education system that many schools miss.

Brookside students all sit down at tables and are served a hot lunch. A member of the faculty sits at each table.

I remember manners being impressed upon me while eating. Social graces are fed to the kids without the appearance of formal education.

Eccentricities

Because we had to serve the food, working and responsibility were added to the school routine.

It's hard to feed that many kids a sit-down lunch every day without organization. And that organization was and is supervised by a stern taskmaster with a perpetual smile and a twinkle in her eye—Flora.

HER SCOTTISH brogue was like music as she moved us kids into action.

Because the lunch program at the school is so highly successful, it's a shame retirement must come.

The trouble with an arbitrary retirement age is that some should retire years before it, and some should never retire.

The thousands of us who as students or parents have had even the smallest relationship with Flora over the years realize what a loss this will be for Brookside.

We'll all miss her enormously.

A mothering type of mother

Editor:

Every year at this time before Mother's Day, I pick up the paper and see the same thing: This woman or that woman is voted mother of the year, or mother of this or that.

When I read those articles, all I can do is shake my head and forget it. Well, this year, I feel I should try to do something about it, out of love for my wife.

You see, my wife is no big gun in church or clubs and anything else, for that matter. When it comes to taking care of money matters, she is a big flop. When it comes to housecleaning, there again she isn't the best. When it comes to remembering important dates, she doesn't do too good. I guess there are a lot of other things she is lacking.

But when it comes to heart, she has the biggest—not in town, state or nation, but in the whole, wide world! In the last 21 years, she has adopted and raised 11 children and fostered a half-dozen. I'm not saying she raised all angels; they are just average boys and girls who gave us some bad times and lots of good times.

Right now she has eight adopted children at home and one foster child, one three years old who can't hear, can't talk or walk and is not potty-trained. She takes care of all of this and gives them plenty of love.

She is a Girl Scout leader, a den mother for Cub Scouts, a class mother for two of the children at school. She does all the cooking and laundry at home. And she takes care of me. She is a real mother of the year.

'Coercion, threat' seen

Was it mere coincidence that a recent Observer & Eccentric front page ran a story on the June Livonia school millage election next to a story on school personnel "pink slipped" in case of millage defeat, or was this a harbinger of the usual threats and coercion to come?

I will really have to search my conscience to vote for any millage since recent "desperately" needed millage has purchased for our Riley Junior High a newly sodded, fenced football field complete with underground sprinkling system.

I categorize such expenditures along with sofas, televisions, draperies, luxury autos, etc. purchased with our tax money. I believe younger folks refer to this as a "rip-off."

'What about American kids?'

Editor:

What about our American children who have been in homes for years? Don't you think these children would not like parents and love and homes, something they have never known?

And yet America goes way out to bring Vietnamese children over here, and people run to the airports or whatever they have to do.

How many of these people have ever visited a home for American children and looked into the eyes of our children who are orphans and seen how they look at you with hope that maybe you may take them to a home of parents and love.

I say, "Clean up, America," provide homes and parents for our children. Then if there are homes and par-

Why don't we open up our homes and our hearts to our American children first; then these children also can know love.

'A litter catastrophe'

Editor:

My husband and I were on Edward Hines Drive Saturday during the "Walk for Mankind" sponsored by Westland Jaycees. I was very, very disappointed. The young people were walking in the road and would not even move to the shoulder when cars came by.

This was causing traffic to stop and pile up because if two cars were coming from opposite directions, there was no way to go around these kids to keep the traffic moving.

At the corner of Riverside and the Park Drive, where the truck parked on the lawn to sell food, there was "a litter catastrophe."

The third thing that bothered me was the intersection of Wilcox and the Park Drive where the roadblock was set up. Even with a stoplight there, children were running across in front of moving cars, against the light!

I think these walks are a wonderful idea. I myself sat on a checkpoint last year in Livonia. But if these youths don't use their common sense, and if they break so many safety rules to fulfill this one obligation, I'm afraid I feel the walks lose their purpose.

I hope the Jaycees will consider these dangerous situations when they plan next year's walk—and at least try proposing a route where sidewalks are available and adequate litter containers can be found.

I also hope the parents of next year's walkers will see to it that their children know and use public safety rules before they turn their children loose to walk 20 miles on a county road.

Sheriff's deputies get 'best contract'

By MARILYN FITCHETT
After a year of negotiations ending in compulsory arbitration, Wayne County Sheriff's deputies have left the bargaining table with "the best contract in the country."
That's the opinion of Jamil Akhtar, president of Sheriff's Local 502 whose officers received average salary increases of 15.8 per cent including cost of living adjustments and a host of fringe benefits, chief among them a policeman's bill of rights.
Wayne County Board of Commissioners has agreed to accept all but two contract items. They are group auto insurance for the deputies and a clause which says the patrol must be maintained at its present level of enforcement.

THE THREE-YEAR contract is retroactive to July 1, 1974 and is expected to cost the county $8.7 million including $1.2 million in retirement benefits.

The bulk of both economic and non-economic packages was settled in the union's favor by a three-man state arbitration panel.

Deputies' starting salaries are now $12,000, an 11.89 per cent boost. Second year officers earn $13,000, an increase of 13.45 per cent. Third year officers get $14,000, a hike of 14.75 per cent. Fourth year officers earn $15,000, a 15.9 per cent increase. Five-year deputies receive $15,900, an increase of 11.68 per cent.

Detectives get a 9.9 per cent raise to $17,800.

Cost of living adjustments (COLA) are paid quarterly. An additional five per cent COLA is rolled into the adjusted salary.

Shift differentials jumped from 30 to 35 cents per hour. The weekend differential raises Saturday work 10 to 30 cents per hour, and the Sunday differential from 15 to 35 cents per hour.

NON-ECONOMIC fringes awarded by the panel include a $15,000 increase in life insurance to $25,000; bomb squad insurance of $50,000; and a 25-and-out clause regardless of age.

Beginning July 1, in addition to Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage, officers will receive master medical, dental and optical insurance and a prescription rider.

Officials debate arbitration awards

By MARILYN FITCHETT
"Thoroughly emasculated" — that's how Local 502 president Jamil Akhtar described Wayne County negotiators after an arbitration panel agreed to grant Wayne County Sheriff's deputies virtually every demand they made at the bargaining table.
Behind the negotiations are charges by Akhtar that the county is more interested in playing politics than negotiating a contract, and counter-claims by county officials who maintain that only economic issues should be settled by arbitration.

"The county hasn't the ability to come into the 20th century and negotiate with us. Maybe this settlement will bring them to their senses," Akhtar said.

Jack Wilkinson of the Wayne County Labor Relations Board called the contract "astounding."

"We went to the table thinking in terms of a six or seven per cent pay increase. But the arbitrators seemed to take into consideration that it takes five years for a police officer to reach maximum salary. Using that criterion as a base, they awarded raises which averaged 15 per cent including the cost of living."

AKHTAR BLAMES the county for hiring negotiators, who, he says, do not have expertise in dealing with county matters.

"They hire negotiators from the building trades or from townships," he said. "We don't have any professionals on our side but the contract, in all modesty, is without question the best in the country."

The thorn in the side of the county is the contract's arbitrated award which calls for maintaining present budgeted positions at July 1, 1974 levels virtually eliminating deputy layoffs.

County Commissioner James DeSana, head of the Labor Relations Board does not believe the matter should have been settled in arbitration.

"There has been no scientific approach to maintaining the present program," DeSana said.

"In the first place, I don't think it ought to be arbitrated and if so, then the panel should have been involved more concerning the detail and manning of the operation."

"Proper manning, as they define it, is totally irrelevant. We put in what we can afford."

AKHTAR CALLS the county position that only economic matters should be settled in arbitration "ludicrous," while DeSana charges that arbitration panels are pro-labor and show a history of making settlements favorable to union positions.

"Now if the union puts something on the table, then it stays on the table until it is resolved, even if it has to go to arbitration," DeSana said.

"You can't sit down and negotiate with someone who knows they will come out successfully, if the matter will be taken to arbitration."

DeSana contends that arbitration panels will eventually erode political power.

"Personally I feel there is a trend to take power out of the politician's hands," he said. "Now he has to justify his actions to an outside party rather than be held accountable by the people."

"If a politician runs on a platform of strict law enforcement, then it should be up to the people to decide whether or not he'll have the chance to implement the programs. It shouldn't be up to an arbitrator."

"If it (arbitrated settlements) spreads, it could be that the public will have nothing to say about how its dollars are spent."

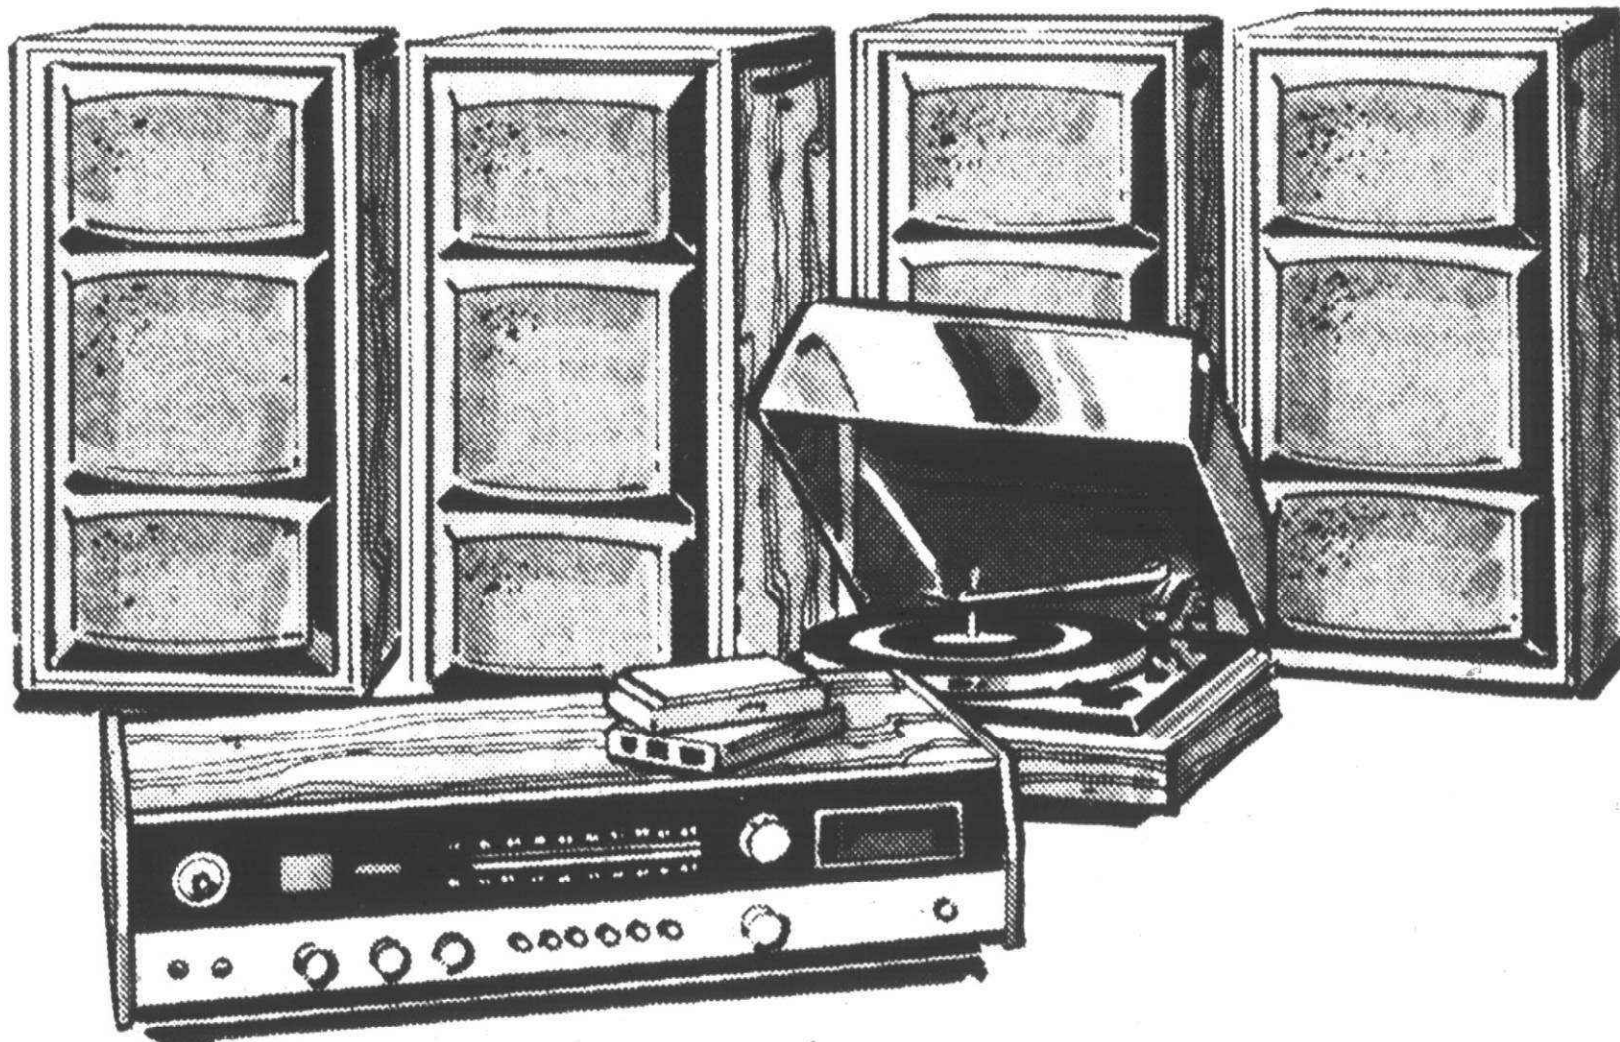

WHILE AKHTAR agrees with DeSana on the issue of constituency backing, he disagrees with his idea of the power of arbitrators.

"Commissioners are interested in playing political games," Akhtar said. "They're concerned with interest groups. That's why you've seen a great deal of attention paid to hospitals. In contrast to police officers in the county, hospital employees have always been well organized and better at applying forms of pressure."

Erick Hawkins Dance Co. in Plymouth

Good seats are still available for the Erick Hawkins Dance Company's performance tonight (Thursday) and Friday at 8 p.m. in Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium, Joy west of Canton Center Road.

The company will perform "Black Lake," "Greek Dreams," and "Early Floating."

The dancers are trained to use natural movement, not strained, and they always move in the Hawkins "free flow" technique, not gliding, but floating seemingly without effort.

Tickets at $3.50 are available in the Schoolcraft College bookstore until 7 p.m. tonight and 3:15 p.m. on Friday. A group rate of $2.50 each for group of 20 or more is offered. The show is presented by SC in cooperation with the Michigan Arts Council.

Jogging club offered by 'Y'

Do your heart a favor and "run for your life."

A "Run for Your Life" jogging club, sponsored by the Canton-Plymouth-Northville YMCA, will run on the track at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park Monday through Thursday from 6 to 7 p.m. from May 12 to June 26.

Coach D.J. Martin will hold a jogging clinic every Monday to provide coaching and workouts and to help with weight problems, running problems or similar questions.

A "road run" will mark the end of the spring program. A summer program will begin after June 26 to prepare for the YMCA's first annual Plymouth Fall Festival five-mile run on Sept. 6.

Cost of the program is $12 for coaching and a "Run for Your Life" T-shirt. For further information, call the YMCA.

Vending machines damaged

PLYMOUTH—An estimated $700 in damage and theft was reported by a car wash business at 450 Ann Arbor Road which was broken into sometime Sunday.

Police said the coin operated towel vending machine was pried open. The coin box as well as the towing was missing.

The coin operated vacuum cleaner at the rear of the building as well as the coin operated heat machine and money box in the eastern bay were broken into.

School, Main Street in Plymouth. "Barefoot," a three-act comedy written by Neil Simon, is about newlyweds Paul and Corie Bratter. Having moved into a fifth floor flat in a New York brownstone, the Bratters encounter a variety of hilarious circumstances with each other, Corie's mother, and their eccentric neighbor Victor Velasco.

Kerry Barnette of Plymouth plays Corie Bratter. It is her first time on stage with the Plymouth group.

Paul Bratter will be Dennis Martino of Livonia. Martino, who is studying to be a professional clown is practicing his trade at Geppetto's Fun Factory in Garden City. He hopes to join a major circus company sometime soon.

A 1974 graduate of the ALPHA program at Bentley High School, Martino's acting experience includes high school plays and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" presented by Schoolcraft College.

Corie's widowed mother, Mrs. Banks is played by Pat Bray of Northville. Mrs. Bray was seen in the PTG's last production "All My Sons."

Other cast members include Lee Snider of Livonia as the zany Victor Velasco, and Dennis Wrubel of Canton Township as the telephone repair man.

Snider, a graduate of Stevenson High School in Livonia has been in several PTG plays, Schoolcraft's "Midsummer Night's Dream" and Dearborn Civic Players "1776."

Wrubel, an engineer at Ford Motor Company, has been in the PTG play "Mary Mary."

Fred Brown, a newcomer to the Plymouth stage, will portray the delivery man.

Director is Sandra Richards, a veteran of the theater. Producers are Carole McNulty and Len Pavia.

Tickets for "Barefoot in the Park" will be available at the door or by calling Pavia, 11527 Brownell, Plymouth.

After O&E Relays victory

It's business as usual for RU track team

By TOM SCHRAM
Sports Editor

It was business as usual Monday afternoon for the Redford Union track team which won the fifth annual Observer & Eccentric Relays Saturday.

"Be had some complaints about sore muscles but we have other meets to prepare for," said RU coach John MacKenzie who whipped his team through the usual grinding workout Monday.

Redford Union won the top area meet with an unprecedented 34 points over runnerup Livonia Churchill's 22.

"The amazing thing about the score was that I sat down Friday with my assistant coach and the most points we thought we could possibly get was 25. And we thought that many might be enough to win," MacKenzie said.

In other years it might have been enough as the meet had built up a reputation for lightning close finishes every year.

THIS TIME, HOWEVER the Panthers literally ran away with the meet, taking three firsts and four seconds in 12 events en route to becoming the first team ever to win two outright O&E Relay championships.

MacKenzie said the upset victory in the shot put relay is what gave his team the needed push to take the meet.

"Be really didn't expect to win that event, but it was definitely the catalyst to the victory," he said.

Brad Ross paced the Panthers in that event with a toss of 55 feet -- his best of the year.

But even after it had become apparent that Redford Union was pulling away from the pack and would record the easy victory, MacKenzie refused to make any victory statements. He nervously paced the infield of the Hilbert Junior High School track where the meet was hosted by RU, fulfilling his double function of coach-meet manager.

"I refused to accept it until I was absolutely certain. I've been in this coaching business too long to go for any of that 'in the bag' stuff," MacKenzie said.

MacKenzie rates this year's team as his "best in three or four years" but not the best in his 13 years at RU, a span which includes the 1969 state championship Panther team.

But it is a team with fine depth and a few outstanding individuals which is well deserving of its title as the area's best and its Observer & Eccentric Relays championship.

Observerland Relays

THE REDFORD UNION track team takes the winner's podium to receive the Observer & Eccentric Relays team trophy from Sports Editor Tom Schram after its impressive victory in the meet Saturday.

Four teams advance in Les Anders tournament

Garden City East may be having some difficulties on the diamond this year but certainly not in the Les Anders Tournament so far.

Billy Joe Young's Panthers demolished their second tourney foe Saturday when they blasted Clarenceville, 12-1, at Haggerty field. East had earlier trounced North Farmington, 10-0, in an opening round Anders game.

Clarenceville jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Mark McCammon doubled with one out and took third on Chris Curtis' single. East hurler Britt Ponte tried to pick off Curtis at first and McCammon scored when the throw got away from the first baseman.

After that it was all East. In the top of the second, Wally Krol and Joe Becszko singled. Jeff Edgar beat out a bunt and Krol scored on a wild throw. Ponte's suicide squeeze bunt scored Becszko.

In the third, Greg Emery was safe on an error. Gary Hudson singled and Krol walked jamming the sacks. Emery scored on Becszko's sacrifice fly to right. Lou Willoughby walked to re-fill the bases before Ponte delivered a two-run single.

The Panthers wrapped up the game in the fifth when they tallied seven more, causing the mercy rule to halt the game after five innings.

The floodgates opened when Becszko singled and Edgar reached first on an error. Willoughby knocked in Becszko with a single before an error on Ponte's bounce loaded the bases. Jim Peter's timely single delivered two more runs. Kleinbrook walked and Bob Hudson's fly to right scored Peter. Gary Hudson gained first on an error.

Mantle league needs teams

A western Wayne County Mickey Mantle team is seeking teams for competition this summer. Teams for the 16 and under league have already been established in Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Plymouth and from Detroit Catholic Central. A Thursday, May 8 league meeting at Catholic Central has been scheduled.

Further information about the league may be obtained from Father Enright at Catholic Central.

error and Krol walked filling the bases again.

Becszko singled for the second time in the inning, scoring Gary Hudson and Edgar doubled home Krol and Becszko to end the scoring.

Ponte, making his first start, allowed only two first inning hits before setting down the last 14 men in a row. Shortstop Krol threw out eight of those last 14 men.

The outstanding fielding gem of the game was centerfielder Joe Becszko's sensational shoe-string grab of a sinking liner while running full speed into right-center field. Every starter had a hit for the Panthers.

BENTLEY — BORGESS

Bishop Borgess kept its Anders tournament hopes alive Saturday when Naile Shaheen singled in John Wedeski in the seventh to give the Spartans a 6-5 come from behind victory over Livonia Bentley.

Borgess jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Mark Gergel singled, Greg Heimbuch and John Wedeski followed with singles and Jim Pierce was safe on an error.

But Bentley stormed back with four runs in its half of the first to reverse the margin.

Ernie Storm started things for the Bulldogs with a double and Russ Hodges reached base on an error. Glen Stevens walked to load the bases.

After Al Bolz popped out, Mike Robbins slashed a single to right scoring Stevens but Hodges was thrown out on a perfect strike from Mark Gergel to Heimbuch.

With two out, Borgess starter Dale Paige was lifted for Kevin Makie and Dan Dinsmore greeted the reliever with a two run double. A successful double steal concluded the first inning scoring.

Bentley scored again in the second inning without the aid of a hit as it put together a walk, a stolen base and a Borgess error to run the count to 5-3.

Borgess countered with a run in the fourth when Wedeski scored on Gary Mulka's grounder. The Spartans added two in the sixth on a two-out rally.

Jim Pierce was hit with a pitch and Shaheen walked. Mackie ran the count to one and two and stepped out twice before hitting a shot up the middle scoring both runs.

That tied the game for Borgess and set the stage for Shaheen's last inning heroics.

CANTON—FRANKLIN

Plymouth Canton held off a late Livonia Franklin rally and held on to take a 4-3 victory and advance in the Anders tournament Saturday.

Canton committed three errors in the seventh inning and allowed one Franklin run before getting out of the inning.

The usually sure-handed Chris Martucci dropped a routine fly ball in left field to start things off in the Franklin seventh and then shortstop Brian Stemberger made two errors before turning in a brilliant play, going deep in the hole to grab Mark Saia's grounder and force a runner at second to end the game.

"I was glad to get out of that inning and glad to get out of the game with the victory," said baffled Canton coach Fred Crissey.

Canton scored a run in the second to knot things at 1-1 when Stemberger walked and Paul Major hit an RBI double.

The Chiefs added two in the fifth on two Franklin errors and a squeeze bunt and then wrapped things up in the sixth when Stemberger homered to right field.

Stemberger went two-for-three for the day.

Canton will now face Farmington Harrison a team the Chiefs beat earlier in the year by a 1-0 count.

GLENN — HARRISON

Defending Les Anders tournament champion Westland John Glenn was bounced from the 1975 version of the tournament Saturday 4-3 by Farmington Harrison.

John Ketelhut made his first error of the year for the Rockets in the seventh inning on Sam Pink's grounder and moments later Pink scored on Tim Harsha's double for the deciding run of the game.

Glenn had tied the game in the sixth on a three-run rally.

Mark Owens singled and Eric Bordsvold and Ketelhut both reached base on Harrison errors. Joe Hicks then delivered a double to get the Rockets back in the game.

Thurston diamondmen split pair

All good things must come to an end and they did just that for Thurston Monday as the Eagles split a doubleheader with Oak Park, taking the opener 3-2 in 11 innings and dropping the second game, 2-0, Thurston's first league loss.

Randy Rodriguez started the first game but the Thurston ace, who was pitching on two days rest, tired in the second and allowed two Redskin runs.

But Bob Bessonen came on to do a yerman's job the rest of the way, limiting Oak Park to four hits, striking out five while walking only one.

Rodriguez ended the marathon himself with a solid hit which scored Dennis Litwinczuk who had singled and advanced on a pair of walks.

Thurston opened the scoring in the first on Jeff Krzywada's single and Dennis Kuschel's double.

Oak Park came back for two in the second on a Thurston error, a triple and a single.

Thurston knotted things in the fifth on Krzywada's walk, Rodriguez's single and Kuschel's ground ball which went through the Oak Park third baseman.

And that's the way things stayed until Rodriguez came through again in the 11th for the winner.

The nightcap was just that with proceedings lingering on until the early evening because of the long first game.

Oak Park winning pitcher Wayne

Goodwin had the Eagles' number all night and Thurston coach Emil Majeski made no excuses.

"We were pretty well handcuffed. We just didn't get the key hits," Majeski said.

Oak Park did. The Redskins parlayed a walk, a stolen base and a single for a run in the first and combined two hits with a wild pitch by loser Jeff Trachsel sandwiched in between for the final 2-0 count.

The split left the Northwest Suburban race exactly where it started. Oak Park remains one game behind Thurston with the Eagles now sporting a 6-1 league record.

Aggie pitcher gets no-hitter

St. Agatha senior righthander Pat Ruvolo had a birthday April 30 but he waited three days to do his celebrating.

Ruvolo survived a shaky final inning last Saturday to make his second win of the season the kind every prep pitcher dreams of — a no-hitter. The performance came in the Aggies' 9-0 pasting of Detroit Benedictine.

Ruvolo gave up one near hit — a blooper Ron Monette gloved at shoestring level in the first inning — but it was clear sailing from then until the near-fatal seventh.

In the final inning, Ruvolo came up wild and walked the first three men. But he bore down and recorded two strikeouts before the final batter of the game popped to short.

"When I saw the ball in the air, I started jumping up and down," said Ruvolo who is a four-sport man for the Aggies.

St. Agatha was in control of the game all the way.

The Aggies opened by scoring six runs in the top of the first, Gary Beyrand and Jim Merritt each had run producing singles but the key hit of the inning was Dave Mulley's three run homer.

Merritt picked up another RBI in the third with a hit and the Aggies wrapped up the scoring with two in the fourth on an error, two walks and Chris Gongol's RBI single.

St. Agatha is now 2-4 in league play and 3-6 overall.

Batteries: St. Agatha — RUVOLO and Beyrand, Benedictine — KESLER and Hostnik.

Clarenceville takes fourth straight loss

Clarenceville saw its hopes for a Wayne-Oakland League baseball crown virtually extinguished Monday when it dropped a 3-2 decision to front-running Clarkston.

Clarenceville, which at one time posted a 4-0 record in league, has now dropped three straight league contests and four straight overall. The Trojans are presently 4-3 in league while Clarkston remained on top, unbeaten after six encounters.

Things started well enough for Clarenceville in the Monday game as it grabbed a 2-0 first inning lead.

Naile Sheena started things with a walk and Mark McCammon followed with a single. After a ground out advanced both runners, Sheena scored on a Clarkston error on Rick Beyer's routine grounder.

Tim Laird followed with a single and Clarkston found itself coming to bat with a two run deficit.

Clarkston got one back in the third on winning pitcher's Steve Howe's homer and scored another when Trojan shortstop Sheena committed a throwing error with two outs and runners on second and third in the fifth.

Clarkston scored the winner on Rod Hool's RBI single in the bottom of the seventh.

Chris Curtis suffered the loss for Clarenceville. Curtis is now 4-2 on the season.

Clarenceville begins state tournament play Saturday when it is scheduled for a pre-district meeting at Redford St. Mary.

Batteries: Clarenceville — CURTIS and Beyer, Clarkston — HOWE and Blower.

Purses highlight upcoming racing

There'll be plenty of $15,000 and $10,000 weekend races at Detroit Race Course in the meanwhile, but DRC director of racing Tom Dorsey could be excused recently for particular excitement over five fat purses which have shaped up for the last six weeks of the season.

More than a quarter million dollars awaits in-the-money thoroughbreds in five big events starting with the Frontier Handicap on Saturday, June 7. Dorsey has revealed. The annual $100,000 Michigan Mile and One Eighth, carded for Saturday, June 21, leads the prize list of course.

"Together with the 'Mile' our four rich Michigan-bred races will skyrocket total purses for those events to right around $285,000," Dorsey reported. "It'll be the biggest month-and-a-half windup the track has ever presented Detroit-area racing fans."

Dorsey said he expects the purses for the Frontier Handicap, the Dowling Memorial on Saturday, June 28 and the Michigan Futurity on Sunday, July 13, all to reach record total of $50,000. The Michigan Oaks of Sunday, June 22, adds another $35,000 and gives DRC an ultra-attractive "Michigan Mile Weekend" presentation.

DORSEY POINTED OUT the rich summer purse structure in the hours following the Kentucky Derby, the time of the year when the DRC thoroughbred official annually begins his quest for top Michigan Mile horses. He did not rule out the possibility of "a Derby horse or two" winding up in the field of the $100,000 DRC classic.

Starting the parade of fat DRC purse offerings, the Frontier will go at one mile and a sixteenth and is for 3-year-olds and up. The Oaks is at one mile and is for 3-year-olds exclusively, while the Dowling is for the same age horses and will cover a mile and a sixteenth. The Futurity, probably the most colorful of the four Michigan-bred races since it is strictly for 2-year-olds at six furlongs, comes on the final afternoon of the track's 1975 season.

In the midst of the big homebred racing splash, of course, is the 27th running of the famed 'Mile', Michigan's richest horse race annually.

"We're trying to make Sunday racing as colorful and exciting as possible," Dorsey said. "And being able to schedule the Oaks and the Futurity on Sundays should help give us a pretty true picture on the potential of Sunday racing in Michigan."

The $15,000 Tulip Festival Handicap Saturday and the $10,000 Mother's Day Handicap Sunday headline the DRC racing card this weekend. Both are at six furlongs and will feature handicap stars which have already won big races at DRC this spring.

Redford Union splits doubleheader

Redford Union and Thurston split a doubleheader Saturday in non-league baseball action with RU taking the opener 7-0 and the Eagles capturing the nightcap 2-0.

Craig Barrowcliff handled the mound chores for the Panthers in the first game, limiting Thurston to two hits, striking out five and walking four.

"He did a nice job for us. He kept the ball low all day," said Redford Union coach Bob Atkins.

Gary Stafford got RU rolling in the first inning, reaching first on an error, stealing second and coming home on Greg Wood's hit to center-field.

Barrowcliff aided his own cause in the second with an RBI single to run the Panther advantage to 2-0 and the floodgates really opened in the third when Redford Union scored three times.

Tom Jones started that rally with a double and with two outs George Willard singled and Rich Campbell and Bob Miller unloaded back-to-back doubles to run the RU margin to five.

RU finished the scoring in the fourth with a double steal to bring in one run and Wood's RBI single to score another.

In the second game, Redford Union was shut out for the first time this year as Dave Ribick got tough when it counted and Thurston pushed two runs across in the first for the margin of victory.

Howard Copeland, making his first start for RU, was tough most of the way but the Eagles did get to him in the first.

Copeland walked Randy Rodriguez and Dennis Kushel to start things and Mitch Drozdowski's hit loaded the bases.

Sophomore Dan Hunter then lifted a long fly to center and Rodriguez scored on the sacrifice.

Dennis Litwinczuk followed with an RBI single to close out the scoring. Redford Union had plenty of chances in the later goings, putting a total of 10 men aboard in the fourth, fifth and sixth inning but the Panthers were lacking the key hit and Thurston held on.

Batteries: Redford Union — BARROWCLIFF and Campbell. Thurston — HOFELICH and Beebe.

DRC SUNDAY FLORASCOPE BY EARL FLORA

Can you believe that winning mutuel tickets in the total amount of $76,555.30 went uncashed at DRC in 1974! But if you have one there's still no hurry. Sixty days after the racing season is completed the track turns the uncashed money over to the escheats division of Michigan's treasury department, where there's absolutely no deadline in the payoff of old tickets . . . Up until just three years ago the fastest things Mike Morgan had ever ridden were the big, plodding farm horses at the family spread in Nebraska. Now one of DRC's leading jockeys, the 21-year-old Morgan explains: "I wanted something faster, I couldn't afford a car, so I went looking for the thoroughbreds." . . . A couple of fleet DRC race horses came about their strange names, Akepot Sasnak and Initram, from original owners who like to spell things backwards. . . . Mothers Day at DRC . . . this Sunday the first four hundred ladies will receive a beautiful bottle of Moontide Cologne . . . Come early, gates open at 11 a.m. . . . DRC party girl Sandy Walker has unveiled an attractive new $4.95-per person "group plan" for Sundays only. The economy package includes clubhouse admission, race program, a choice buffet and a fourth floor reserved seat. Front and center in Sandy's smorgasbord spread are fried chicken, roast beef and an Italian dish . . . DRC is one of the few tracks, if not the only one, using a well programmed computer to come up with its daily race program selections (a prediction of what horses will finish 1-2-3). In the track's first 389 races the mechanical monster coughed up 112 correct winners for a percentage of 29%; over that same race period its first place pick finished first, second or third 239 times for a rating of 61.2%. Nice going, but further proof that nobody or nothing is perfect . . . Program Chairmen call me at 421-7170 to book an entertaining horse racing presentation for your group . . . Rising young jockey star Sam Maple is living up to all expectations; he's the top percentage rider in the DRC camp with 43 in-the-money finishes in his first 75 starts.

Bentley wins league first

Livonia Bentley finally broke into the winner's column in Suburban Eight baseball Monday, topping Trenton 5-3 to up its record to 1-4.

Don Nalepka came on in the fifth for the Bulldogs and retired nine straight Trenton batters to give him a victory in his first decision of the year. Brian Butcher had started for Bentley.

Bentley took a 1-0 lead in the second on a heads up play by Greg Gilcrest. Gilcrest singled and stole second and then came all the way home on Tom Schultz's infield hit, never breaking stride.

It looked like it might be another long afternoon for the Bulldogs when Trenton tallied three times in the fourth but they came back for one in the fifth when Schultz reached base on an error, stole second, moved to third on a passed ball and scored on Ernie Storm's basehit.

Bentley really got it together in the sixth, however, when it scored three times for its margin of victory.

Al Bolz led off with a single. Nalepka was safe when he tried to bunt Bolz along and the throw went late to second base. Gilcrest singled home Bolz and moved Nalepka to third. Mike Neville's ground ball scored Nalepka and Schultz picked up the final RBI with an infield single.

Nalepka retired the final three Trenton batters in order to close out the game.

Batteries: Trenton — NORRIS and Molaski. Bentley — Butcher, NALEPKA (5) and Hodges.

Sub-8 race tightens

The Suburban Eight baseball race became a wide open affair Tuesday as Plymouth Salem ace Tom Willette came up with the big game when he needed it, stopping Redford Union 7-3.

Salem now is one-half game behind the Panthers in league play sporting a 6-2 record compared to RU's 6-1.

Salem scored twice in the second. Doug Tripp singled and stole second. Howard Inch and Charles Johnson then hit back-to-back doubles.

The Rocks added three in the fourth on an error, a walk, Johnson's triple and catcher Vern Nagel's sacrifice fly.

Salem put the game out of reach in the fifth as Tim Dillon singled and Willette tripled and came home on Dan Moore's fly ball.

With a 7-0 lead and the game safely in hand, Rock coach Wayne Sparckman lifted Willette for another day.

RU scored its only runs of the game in the seventh when Tom Jones and Greg Wood singled and George Willard walked. A Salem error scored Jones and Wood and Willard later came home on Richard Campbell's groundball.

Batteries: Redford Union — Copeland and Campbell. Salem — WILL-ETTE and Nagel.

Maybe it's time you looked into a tax shelter you can live in.

When you buy a home, you get much more than your own roof over your head.

You also get a very nice tax shelter.

When you own a home, both your property taxes and your mortgage interest are deductible.

And that's in addition to the new tax credit of up to $2000 to people who purchase a new home that was unoccupied or under construction as of March 25th.

The potential for profit.

It's often true that you can make money on a house.

In fact, given the economic trend of recent years, almost any well-built home in a good location can be expected to command a higher price when you sell it than it did when you bought it.

That makes a home one of the few things that you can buy, use every day for years, and still have a good chance of selling for more than you paid for it.

Interest rates are down.

Interest rates on home mortgages have been declining recently.

This means it's likely to cost you less to finance a home now than it would have even a few months ago. And because there are more homes than buyers right now, you have the added advantage of a buyer's market.

We have the money.

In fact, right now we're making more mortgage loans than any other bank in town.

And not just because we have more money to lend.

We also offer you the convenience of being able to apply for your mortgage at any NBD office, and have the closing set up at an NBD office in your neighborhood in as little as two weeks after approval.

We'll answer your questions.

If you'd like to know more about buying a home in today's market, or the cost of a mortgage, any NBD officer at any NBD bank will be happy to help.

If you're considering a new home, why not visit your National Bank of Detroit office? It costs nothing to talk. And you may be pleasantly surprised at just how much house you really can afford.

Making banking better for you.

West diamondmen drop two

If Coach Bob Dropp of Garden City West was paid a dollar for every runner left on base, he probably could retire with a comfortable nestegg. However, the Tigers have managed to get enough men across the plate to give them a 5-3 league mark and 6-5 record for the season.

West split four games in the Tri-River League this past week to stay in the middle of the pack. The Tigers edged Southgate Schafer, 5-4 and Riverside, 8-5, but dropped a pair to the front-runners, Melvindale and Southgate, 0-0.

Melvindale struggled past the Tigers, 7-3, with a four-run burst in the bottom of the sixth, while Southgate walloped West, 16-2.

Against Melvindale Tuesday, West played one of its best games of the year. After falling behind 3-0 after three innings, the Tigers came to life. Lefty Jim Lankford, untouched through a perfect first three innings, was rapped for a solid single and double by Mark Sutherland and Jim Zoccoli. Grounders by Matt Shinsky and Terry Bradley scored the two.

Lefty Tom Poole, who only gave up six hits to the league leaders, drove a long fly to score Dave Noonan with the tying run in the fifth.

Tied 3-3, Melvindale broke the game open in the sixth when it combined two West fielding errors, a pair of solid hits and a perfect bunt to score four times and win, 7-3.

Southgate rapped 13 hits off two Tiger hurlers for an easy, 16-2, win as Chris Jaciuk fired a four-hitter for the Sabers.

The highlights came against Southgate Schafer as Rick Cwiek twirled a tough six-hitter and knocked in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh with two out. Jeff Rutter knocked in three runs with a tremendous double over the left fielder's head and a line-shot off the pitcher's glove with the bases loaded.

Other West hitting stars in the game were Dave Noonan and Shinsky with a pair of singles each.

Riverside was held by Mark Sutherland for five innings as West built up a six-run lead. But the Rebels fired back with a run in the six and four in the seventh before Sutherland could tame their bats.

Pacing West's hitters were Cwiek with a triple and single and Noonan with a pair of singles. Sutherland and Bradley each knocked in two runs.

Batteries: Riverside—Schupra, S. Pilachowski (1) and R. Pilachowski; G.C. West - SUTHERLAND and Zoccoli.

East takes pair on diamond

Garden City East may be having some difficulties on the diamond this year but certainly not in the Les Anders Tournament so far.

Billy Joe Young's Panthers demolished their second tourney foe Saturday when they blasted Clarenceville, 12-1, at Haggerty field. East had earlier trounced North Farmington, 10-0, in an opening round Anders game.

Clarenceville jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Mark McCammon doubled with one out and took third on Chris Curtis' single. East hurler Britt Ponte tried to pick off Curtis at first and McCammon scored when the throw got away from the first baseman.

After that it was all East. In the top of the second, Wally Krol and Joe Becszko singled. Jeff Edgar beat out a bunt and Krol scored on a wild throw. Ponte's suicide squeeze bunt scored Becszko.

In the third, Greg Emery was safe on an error. Gary Hudson singled and Krol walked jamming the sacks. Emery scored on Becszko's sacrifice fly to right. Lou Willoughby walked to re-fill the bases before Ponte delivered a two-run single.

The Panthers wrapped up the game in the fifth when they tallied seven more, causing the mercy rule to halt the game after five innings.

The floodgates opened when Becszko singled and Edgar reached first on an error. Willoughby knocked in Becszko with a single before an error on Ponte's bouncer loaded the bases. Jim Peter's timely single delivered two more runs. Kleinbrook walked and Bob Hudson's fly to right scored Peter. Gary Hudson gained first on an error and Krol walked filling the bases again.

Becszko singled for the second time in the inning, scoring Gary Hudson and Edgar doubled home Krol and Becszko to end the scoring.

Ponte, making his first start, allowed only two first inning hits before setting down the last 14 men in a row. Shortstop Krol threw out eight of those last 14 men.

The outstanding fielding gem of the game was centerfielder Joe Becszko's sensational shoe-string grab of a singling liner while running full speed into right-center field. Every starter had a hit for the Panthers.

Aggie softball girls win

The St. Agatha girls' softball team beat Detroit Benedictine Tuesday 10-6 as Sue Walker went the distance to pick up her third win in five decisions. Walker struck out 10. Chief hitting support for the Aggies came from Lori Behrand who smashed a three-run homer.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

With national individual and team championships as their goal, several contingents of Detroit's all-star women bowlers descend on Indianapolis this week for the annual competition against the top bowlers in the land.

The team competition, in which such teams as Motown, winner of the Bowlerettes title, and Detroit Trophy, the repeat champion in the Ladies Major League, opens on Saturday and continues over the weekend.

Then, next week, the "Queens" tournament opens in head to head competition with Cora Fiebig, Detroit's top average bowler, leading the delegation.

It has been some years since the Detroit area claimed a national title — and this possibly could be the year to end the drought.

TURN ABOUT IS FAIR PLAY. Two weeks ago the Westland Bowl ladies team won the title at Wonderland Lanes. So, to even things up, the Wonderland men's team, captained by Maurice Quinlan, survived a close battle with the Midas team to win the Westland Bowl Classic.

ARON LIPSHY paced the field at Bel-Aire Lanes in the final week of the league season when he posted a 673 in the Businessmen's circuit. His nearest rivals were Lucky Franz with 657 and Ted Kielian with 638.

Meanwhile, Greg Hatter showed the way in the senior house league with 647 as the Kleppel Tire team went on to win the title. Jack Heady took the runner-up position with 631 and Jack Karakashian tied Ed Dunkel for third place at 626.

BEST SCORE OF THE WEEK was turned in by Jerry Fisher in the Trio League at Woodland Lanes when he paced his team with a 777. The three man team totalled 1916, which is the high trio mark for the season.

THE JUNIORS continue to produce some phenomenal scores. This week it was Brain Lackey, a 15-year-old, who rolled a 626 in the junior league at Garden Lanes.

THE WOMEN AT WESTLAND BOWL continue at a torrid pace in the Coffee and Donuts league. This week Shelly Jajugo fired a 241 in 551 and Jennie Wallace had a 233 in 537.

JIM HAMLIN returned to the winners' circle in the Teen Classic at Farmington Lanes with a 221 in 588. At this figure he beat Ray Smith with 214 in 576; Bill Stephenson with 223 in 573 and Judy Krot with a 224 in 550.

JOYCE STEVENSON showed the way in the Elkettes League at Plymouth Bowl with one of her best series of the year. She rolled games of 233, 195 and 187 for a 615.

In the senior citizens league George Hatchkim was high with 256, followed by George Walker with 242 and Jim Johnston with 231.

Mike Totsky, anchor man on the Stroh team, can't be blamed if he sees the 6-7 split in his sleep these nights.

It was that split in the final frame that prevented him from leading the Stroh team to a successful defense of the Classic title in the ABC tournament last week at Dayton, Ohio.

Coming into the final frame, Mike needed only a spare to assure a Stroh victory over the Munsingwear team composed of five stars from the pro bowlers circuit.

Many bowlers would have played it safe and counted on a rather easy spare. But not Mike. He walked to the foul line ready to "shoot the works" and register a strike. He wanted to win like a champion.

That's when Lady Luck frowned and he left up the 6-7 split and the title chance was lost. But it did prove that Mike is a real competitor who isn't looking for easy victories.

WHEN THE HEROES of the season are listed, a special award should be given to Dick Preston, one of the real veterans of the all-star leagues in the area.

Dick finished the season with a 216 average in the Classic at Wonderland Lanes. It is the highest average recorded in any of the all-star leagues in the metropolitan area and it is striking proof that youth will not always be served.

Dick was in a battle for the average lead throughout the season and never gave up. He is deserving of a fitting reward.

KERRY GIBSON, who carries a 109 average in the Markees league at Cloverlanes, surprised herself and her league members by topping the "impossible." 4-6-7-10 split in her last outing.

Spartans top WLC

The on-again, off-again Livonia Stevenson drive for title honors in the Inter Lakes League baseball race is on again as the Spartans got back to their winning ways Monday with a 4-0 triumph over Walled Lake Central.

Stevenson started out the league race like gangbusters, winning its first three games. But last week the Spartans played dead, losing two league encounters and falling back in the pack.

John Kolis was on against Central, however, giving up only two hits, striking out eight and walking only two en route to his fifth victory in seven starts.

Kolis got Stevenson on the board almost by himself in the third inning. The junior righthander walked and came all the way home after stealing second when the Central catcher threw the ball by his shortstop, second baseman and centerfielder. The Spartans added another run that inning on a wild pitch.

In the fourth, Stevenson catcher Tom Pacion walked, stole second and came home on Jeff Bond's hit.

The Spartans added a final run in the fifth on Jim Snyder's RBI single which scored Dave Pelli.

Stevenson is now #2 in league play and 6-5 overall.

Batteries: Stevenson — KOLIS and Pacion, Walled Lake Central — Yeager and Maynard.

Self-blanche cauliflower is new

GREEK INFLUENCE is prevalent with boutique items including Greek worry beads, handmade wall hanging with dolphins, needlepoint pillows, terra cotta pottery and figurines from Greek Islands, LTD., NYC. The shell console table is from Thomasville's Four Corner collection, and the Solarium flooring and Park Lane carpeting are from Armstrong.

If you're looking for something new in cauliflower, try the variety called "self-blanche." This type could be classified as a labor saving device for home gardeners.

With self-blanche, leaves curl over the developing head and protect it from the sun. The head stays white without the time-consuming process of hand-tying the leaves over the heads as required by other cauliflower varieties.

If larger heads are wanted, or if grown at warmer temperatures, tying will be required, but under proper conditions this job is eliminated.

Self-blanche is a fine variety, well shaped and pure white.

FOR EARLY CROPS, seed of any cauliflower should be sown indoors to get the plants well-started for outdoor transplanting. After the plants are four to six inches high, they can be set outdoors.

Cauliflower is a cool weather plant. It is important that the plants are not checked in growth at any time. Keep them growing steadily and vigorously or the heads will be small and poor.

We've seen cauliflower plants head out when they were only four or six inches tall.

CABBAGE should also be started early indoors, about six weeks before you expect to set the plants in the open ground.

Brussels sprouts are handled much the same as late cabbage. When the sprouts are formed, remove some of the lower leaves and stems. The largest sprouts on the bottom should be picked off and eaten as there'll be more forming until stopped by very cold weather. We had Brussels sprouts as late as February of this year.

FREE: Are you new gardeners? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for a copy of our colored booklet, "Gardening Tips for Vegetables."

If you've been growing your own petunias, remember that growing them warm (60 degrees or more at night) will make them flower sooner—but will also cause them to be tall, spindly plants.

Petunia seed requires light for best germination. In other words, do not cover the seed. Just lightly press it into the soil and see that it does not dry out, once sprouting begins.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: "We want to plant some dwarf fruit trees.

Does dwarfing make the apples smaller or change the flavor?"
ANSWER: No, dwarf apples are same size as standards, and the flavor is the same. Dwarfs come into bearing sooner. Apples and pears are more frequently dwarfed than other varieties of tree fruits.

'Grow your own,' topic of lecture

"Just follow nature's pattern—give the soil plenty of minerals, mulch and bacteria activators, and you'll have an abundance of delicious, health-giving vegetables and fruit without digging or weeding. It's easy, economical and enjoyable," says Bill Manning. Manning, called the "gardening guru" will speak at 7:30 p.m., Monday, May 10 in the Northland Concourse Auditorium, downstairs, Lot E—Aisle 100.

The lecture is sponsored by the Detroit Chapter American Natural Hygiene Society. Chapter members will be admitted for $1.50; adults, $2; college students, 50 cents; and students through high school, free.

Manning will answer the problems of high prices and shortages of nutritious foods produced without poison chemicals.

He tells his classes, "Now is the time for people everywhere to grow some of their own food. Your taste buds and your bank account will know the difference."

Tar base coating protects driveway

If you've never thought about protection for your driveway, you can probably observe the results of your neglect.

Tar base driveway coatings protect bituminous driveways and parking lots against the damaging effects of sun, rain and freezing weather. These coatings also help safeguard your driveway against damage from spilled gasoline, oil and antifreeze.

Available in ready-to-use form, driveway coatings add years to bituminous surfaces. It makes them easier to clean and seals out moisture and frost. It forms a durable shield which insures against deterioration.

Keep in mind the surface to be coated must be clean. Remove all dust, dirt, oil and grease by scrubbing with a household detergent. Rinse well with water.

When the surface is dry, fill any large cracks or potholes with a special filler (driveway coatings usually will not seal cracks larger than hair-line size).

Allow the surface to dry for a few days before applying the coating. Be sure to follow all label directions exactly.

Symphony acclaimed under Dunlap

(Part III)

The man who launched the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, and who is credited with its early success, decided in 1951 that it was time to pick up stakes and move on.

Paul Wagner, whose friend, Helmer Nelson, was no longer superintendent of schools, accepted an offer of a high school position in Pekin, Ill. He is now reported to be out of music and in an administrative position in Montclair, N.J.

Wagner had a friend at the University of Michigan whom he recommended as his successor to conduct the orchestra. He brought his friend, Wayne Dunlap, to Plymouth to meet members of the group. Agreement was reached and Dunlap became the conductor of the Plymouth Symphony. He was an excellent choice.

During his 24 years with the orchestra, Dunlap developed the group into one of the finest community orchestras in the state and perhaps in the nation. His enthusiasm, skill as a musician and conductor, and his personal charm won him ready acceptance by the community.

Dunlap made his home in Plymouth until 1971. He now lives in Grand Rapids. He is in charge of the music department at the College of Arts and Sciences, Grand Valley State College, in Allendale.

PLYMOUTH—PAST AND PRESENT by Sam Hudson

A NATIVE OF Cameron, Mo., Wayne Dunlap earned his BA degree at Texas Christian University in 1939, and his master of music at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, in 1941.

During World War II, he directed the U.S. Army Air Force Band in Texas and New York, and later taught at Army University centers in France and England. After his discharge, he conducted the University Orchestra and the Opera Workshop at the University of Michigan from 1946 to 1953.

Dunlap, a student of Pierre Monteaux, said he developed a feeling for the French style from the celebrated conductor.

In 1954-55, Dunlap received a Fulbright award to study at the Academy of Music in Vienna.

In the 1950s and early '60s, Dunlap conducted orchestras in other communities besides Plymouth. These include orchestras in Grosse Pointe, Muskegon, Saginaw, South Oakland and the Detroit Ballet Theatre. He has been a guest conductor of many other orchestras including the Detroit Symphony. He is a past president of the Michigan Civic Orchestra Association.

IN 1961, Dunlap became Plymouth High School's supervisor of music and director of the community chorus.

Later he became director of fine arts at Schoolcraft Community College until he moved to Grand Rapids. He commutes to Plymouth regularly for Symphony rehearsals and concerts.

Since Dunlap became its conductor almost a quarter of a century ago, the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra has received wide critical acclaim. Even before he joined it, however, the orchestra had been noticed for the excellence of its programs.

As early as December 26, 1948, the "Detroit News," in a two-page rotogravure picture-story, wrote: "Although the orchestra has been playing 'good' music since its inception, it attained its measure as a symphony orchestra by playing its first complete symphony, Beethoven's Eighth, as the concluding selection on the 1947-48 program."

SINCE THOSE early days, the Symphony has presented many excellent programs and brought to Plymouth many well-known artists.

During the first decades of the orchestra, soloists included Roma Riddell, Evelyn Woods, Catherine Fischer, Charles Fisher, Emily Mutter Austin, Nathalie Dale, William Dopman, Nelson Hauenstein, Norma Heyde, Joanne Hulce, Josef Lazaroff, Douglas Marsh, Richard Miller, Mischa Mischakoff, and Millard Taylor.

Composers who have been commissioned to write works for the Symphony include Grant Beglarian, Will Gay Bottje, Lee Eitzen, Robert W. Jones, Bruce Wise and Wynn York.

During the 1955-56 season, the Orchestra introduced Opera to Plymouth with a performance of "Hansel and Gretel." The NBC Opera Company, the Ann Arbor Ballet Company, the Piccolo Opera Company, and the Severo Ballet Company have appeared here under the sponsorship of the Plymouth Symphony. The NBC company performed "Amahl and the Night Visitors" in Plymouth for the 1959 Christmas Season performance.

WELL-KNOWN members of the Orchestra include, or have included:

Evelyn Woods, pianist and soloist; Josef Lazaroff, concertmaster and soloist, who played with symphony orchestras in Toledo, New York, Cleveland and Tampa; Emily Mutter Austin, concertmaster and soloist, and the first woman to become a member of the Detroit Symphony; and the late Nelson Hauenstein, principal flutist and soloist, who was a member of the University of Michigan faculty.

Others include John Mohler, clarinetist and also a member of the U. of M. faculty. Another member of the U.-M. faculty, Louis Stout, who plays the horn in the Plymouth Symphony, was formerly a member of the Chicago and Kansas City symphonies.

Dr. Merrile Wilson, formerly of the New York Philharmonic, and Charlene Wilson and Marilyn Martin are also well-known members of the Plymouth group.

(Part IV, will conclude the story of the Plymouth Symphony).

Concert to benefit camping program

THE LIVONIA FAMILY Y presents Angelo and Angela Primo.

The Livonia Family Y Campership Fund will present Angelo and Angela Primo in concert Sunday, May 18 for two shows in Churchill High School Auditorium, 8900 Newburgh at Joy Road in Livonia.

Performances will be at 2 and 7 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children, and may be purchased at the Y, 14255 Stark Road.

The concert is being staged to raise money to send needy youngsters to camp this summer. The Livonia Y operates a day-camp and also sends youngsters to two out-area camps in Milford and Oscoda.

Also appearing on the program will be Uncle Russ and the Rubber Band Company, and Erik from WXYZ-TV's "Hot Fudge."

The two-hour program will feature the Primos, a brother-sister act, singing "Side by Side," "Sweet Inspiration," "Good Life," "Candy Man," and others.

The Primos have appeared on national television and on stage with several well-known personalities including Robert Goulet, Peggy Lee and Anthony Newley.

Uncle Russ and the Rubber Band Company will perform a variety of music from rhythm and blues to rock n' roll.

The five-member group includes Russ Vogel of Livonia, Katie Beddow of Franklin Village, John Dangola of Livonia, Tom Harris of Allen Park and Jerry Ruggles of Detroit.

Arts workshop

The Farmington Arts Council in cooperation with the Michigan Council for the Arts will sponsor a one-day workshop for Southeastern Michigan Community Arts Council May 16.

More than 30 community arts council and similar organizations have been invited to participate in the workshop at the Orchard Lake Campus of Oakland Community College.

The purpose of the meeting is to provide assistance to new and developing organizations and to encourage an informal exchange of ideas and information among the arts councils.

Resource people heading discussions will be drawn from both the staff of the MCA and from other community arts groups throughout the state.

For other workshop details call the MCA, office of development service, or Marlowe Belanger, Farmington Community Arts Council, 28262 Quail Hollow, Farmington, 48024.

Count Basie's mellow jazz stirs the soul

By STEVE BARNABY

A cool spring evening and some mellow jazz are a natural for bringing together a crowd.

This is especially true when the jazz artist is Count Basie, who recently appeared at the Clarenceville Entertainment Series.

There is something about jazz, unlike any other mode, which stirs the soul. Basie and his band are the perfect example of how the feeling is captured.

Perhaps it's the way jazz concerts are conducted. Printed programs are out of the question. They would hinder the spontaneous feelings between the musicians and the crowd.

AN ESSENTIAL ingredient of a successful jazz session is the interplay between the two forces. There isn't any such thing as a spectator. Everyone participates. It's infectious.

Basie's musicians casually stroll onto the stage. While warming up, a few hesitate to talk with a fan or two. It's easy conversation. Subdued, relaxed laughter slides through the auditorium as musicians and audience warm up to one another. You know everything is going to be all right.

Nonchalantly, the Count appears on stage. The familiar voice and friendly smile make you feel good. The crowd smiles, laughs and before long is up on its feet, applauding the living jazz legend.

The nice thing about Basie is that he allows his musicians to show their individual talents. Many are famous in their own right. During each piece a different musician is featured.

WHETHER it's Al Gray playing "The Spirit is Willing" on his whining trombone, or the great saxophonist Jimmie Hawkins playing his own classic tune "Night Train," the audience is mesmerized.

It's perpetual motion. The more the musicians play, the more the audience applauds and cheers.

Basie knows how to temper his audience. After bringing them to a frenzy with something like "Corner Pocket," he glances at his bass player and the crowd grows quiet to listen to the sound that has made the Count famous.

BASIE plinks out the sound on his piano and the bass player joins in the slow, rhythmic beat. Spatterings of "Oh ya" and "play it, Count" are heard. Basie smiles and the crowd applauds in delight.

As the evening continues, Basie shuffles through the reams of sheet music spread across the piano. At one time, he starts to play a tune for which even his band members are unprepared. He laughs along with the audience, as the musicians scramble through their music.

Jazz, whether slow or fast of tempo, always relaxes. It entertains an audience of all ages and cultural backgrounds. The 10-minute standing ovation given Basie after his Clarenceville performance demonstrates the magic found only in jazz.

Symphony plays pops concert in Westland Mall

Show business, from grand opera to the modern musical comedy, will be explored by the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra Saturday, May 10 in its annual "pops" concert.

For the first time, the orchestra will perform the light-hearted season finale in the mall of Westland Shopping Center, Warren at Wayne roads, beginning at 9 p.m.

Seating will be cabaret style, at tables for four, six or any size party that can be conveniently arranged. Tickets at $3 may be obtained from members of the Symphony League, the women's organization which sponsors this concert; the Bed 'N' Stead shop in Forest Place Mall, Plymouth; or at the door.

Soloist will be baritone Dale Schriemer, who will be heard in excerpts from Lerner and Loewe's "Camelot" and Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta."

Making his first appearance in Plymouth, Schriemer has a growing reputation across the state. He has sung the roles of Marco in Puccini's

"Gianni Schicchi" and Tiger Brown in "Threepenny Opera," both with the Opera Association of Western Michigan.

Schriemer teaches voice in Grand Rapids' Educational Park High School for gifted students and part-time at Grand Rapids Junior College. In addition, he has sung in oratorios at many churches there and is soloist at Mayflower Congregational Church in Grand Rapids.

Conducting will be Wayne Dunlap, closing his 24th season with the Plymouth Symphony.

Songwriting contest continues at EMU

Competition in the American Song Festival, the largest international songwriting contest, continues through June 3, with entry forms available in the Eastern Michigan University Office of Student Life.

The festival is awarding $129,776 to amateurs and professionals in the categories of: Rock, easy listening-middle-of-the road, country, folk, soul and-or rhythm and blues and gospel-religious. The festival also has added a special bicentennial competition for patriotic and historical songs.

Any songwriter may enter any competition. Each entry will be heard and judged by a professional who is an expert in the song's category.

Judging the contest will be Henry Mancini, Marvin Hamlisch, Johnny Mathis, Merle Haggard, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Lou Rawls, Lou Adler, Ray Charles, Loretta Lynn, Loggins and Messina, Atlantic Records vice president Jerry Wexler, and record producers Billy Sherrill and Richard Perry. Also Capitol Records A & R executive Al Coury, Oakridge Boys leader Bill Golden and the Rev. James Cleveland, a gospel music expert.

For an entry form call Carol Burke-Fonte, assistant director of the office of student life, third floor of the McKenny Union on the EMU campus, Ypsilanti.

Spend a spring holiday in a different world.

A world where our American heritage comes alive through the homes, shops and stores of long ago. Also see memory-provoking museum exhibits.

Edison's original Menlo Park Laboratory
Preserved to the smallest details, this historic structure with the other buildings in the complex, is the highlight for many Village visitors.

Homes of famous Americans
Noah Webster, Stephen Foster, Wright Birthplace, Henry Ford. Plus charming homes of other great Americans along the nostalgic lanes.

Ride into the Past
Through the old covered bridge on a carriage, down quiet streets in a Model T. Or take a fascinating ride to Suwanee Park and around the Village behind a century-old steam engine.

Craftsmen, too
Demonstrations of old-time crafts, ranging from simple homemaker arts to trade skills, many dating back to Colonial times.

Abe Lincoln's Courthouse
The Courthouse from Logan County, Illinois, where this great President honed his concepts of social conscience. Now facing the Village Green.

Colonial Agriculture
Beginning April 11, through June 2, a special Museum exhibit will tell the story of how the earliest Americans tilled the soil to put food on their tables, clothes on their backs.

A Variety of Shops
Fine quality souvenirs, enchanting books, Henry Ford Museum reproductions. In some you can buy handmade objects of our craftsmen.

The Wright Cycle Shop
Here the famous Wright Brothers built the struts, spars, and parts for the famous Kitty Hawk flight.

Americana Preserved...
In Henry Ford Museum's endless and fascinating galleries of decorative arts, agriculture, transportation, lighting, communications, machinery.

Airplanes
The original planes which made famous "firsts" in aviation, and recorded global records.

The Bicentennial Is Now
And the history of our nation is in the Museum and the Village. Your family will come away with a far greater appreciation of America's 200th birthday observance.

Dandelions are part of our earliest childhood memories. Remember when we used to hold the yellow blossoms under our playmates' chins to see if they liked butter? And who among us hasn't made a wish on the feathery white heads and then blown hard, scattering hundreds of dandelion seeds on the wind to see if that wish would come true?

The dandelion is not native to North America, but was brought here from Europe by the colonists. The golden blossom is really a cluster of flowers. The flowers, when they ripen, form feathery cottony seeds which the wind carries far and wide.

Because it is spread so easily and is such a hardy plant, it springs up on lawns and gardens where it is not wanted, and is often thought of as a weed. If it weren't so hardy, we would be cultivating it, for the virtues of the dandelion are many.

THE YOUNG leaves, which possess some slight narcotic properties, also contain 7,000 units of vitamin A per ounce and are an excellent source of vitamins B, C and G.

These leaves are delicious in salads or when cooked and served with butter and salt and pepper. They are best when picked before the plant blossoms because older leaves become tough and bitter. A tea made from the mature dandelion leaves and cornsilk is said to be very helpful in controlling bed-wetting.

The roots often grow to be more than three feet long and are an excellent source of natural protein, iron, calcium and phosphorus, all of which are part of our human formula. They also contain inulin (not to be confused with insulin), which is a white starch-like substance that can be used as a substitute for starch to thicken foods such as sauces, puddings and the like for diabetics who should not have starch.

These roots, when dried, chopped, and roasted may be ground and used for a coffee substitute. They resemble coffee in taste and fragrance, but contain none of the caffeine or acids which disturb many persons.

I use a dandelion root blend (purchased from a health foods store) which contains dandelion root and roasted rye. I find this to be delicious and stimulating. Other blends mix the root with roasted acorns, chicory or even soy beans.

NUMEROUS FOLK remedies called for different parts of the dandelion plant. It is credited with being good for the heart, liver, gall bladder, spleen and kidneys and has been used for treating scurvy, eczema and rheumatism. The white milky substance found in the stems is used to get rid of warts.

In Russia the root is brewed like coffee, then mixed with vodka and called "life elixir," and used as a home remedy for blood purifying, liver treatment, jaundice, gall bladder, skin conditions and digestive disturbances.

Here at home it is prepared in pharmaceutical plants in the form of extracts, tinctures, and powders to be used along with other ingredients in preparation of commercial medication for these same conditions.

THIS RECIPE is one I found among my grandmother's notes. It was used as a treatment for rheumatism: Boil down a decoction of the fresh dandelion root (not dried or roasted.) Sliced—one ounce to one pint of water, and strain. To this add two drams of cream of tartar. Dose: a wineglass full taken twice daily.

The astrologically minded will be interested in knowing that dandelions are under the dominion of Jupiter.

Any column about dandelions would be incomplete without a recipe for dandelion wine, often used in witchcraft rituals as well as by non-witches far and wide.

Here is a simple recipe that produces a white wine with unsurpassed flavor:

VIOLET CLARK'S DANDELION WINE
Cover two quarts of the first dandelion blossoms with four quarts of boiling water. Let it stand for 36 hours. Strain and add three pounds of white sugar and the juice of four

Local libraries join in exam

Public libraries in Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township, Garden City and Wayne are among 33 member libraries of the Wayne Oakland Federated Library System (WOFLS) participating in a national college credit-by-examination plan.

Under the plan, anyone may obtain college credit by taking College Level Examination Program (CLEP) exams based on knowledge acquired through intensive reading on a particular subject, on-the-job experience, adult school courses or correspondence, TV or radio courses. General and subject exams are offered.

Each college or university decides which CLEP tests it will accept and the amount of credit it will award. Persons interested in taking the tests should contact the college or institution they wish to have accept credits.

lemons and two oranges. Let this stand 24 hours, then add one yeast cake. When a scum raises to the top, skim it off and add one beaten egg white. Let it stand three days, then strain thrice and bottle it.

GENETIC REVOLUTION!

*Will women get voice in saying how society
'plays God?'*

By MARGARET MILLER

Respect for life, says Dr. Margaret Maxey of the University of Detroit faculty, "cannot have meaning apart from the free, responsible, loving decision of a woman."

"It is unethical," she added in a talk that opened an International Women's Year series at Henry Ford Community College, "to have any law to take out of the power of women—and the men directly concerned—the right to make a decision about the bearing of a child and the right to accept the responsibility for that decision."

Dr. Maxey, who teaches bio-ethics in the U-D department of religious studies, talked about "Women and the Genetic Revolution" for students and staff gathered for an informal brown bag lunch session.

"And I have in mind much more than the use of oral contraceptives," she told the gathering.

GENETIC RESEARCH and reproductive technology, she said, already have brought society to the point at which most birth defects could be prevented through genetic counseling and mate selection. Also, she said, the defective fetus now can be detected during pregnancy, and artificial insemination can produce pregnancy in cases of deficient male sperm.

It also has brought us close to the possibility of test tube ovulation for the infertile woman and an artificial placenta for women unable to carry through a full-term pregnancy, she added.

"We already have the power to control," she stated. "It is anachronistic to ask if we should play God. The question is HOW we are to make judgments."

GYNECOLOGICAL research, Dr. Maxey went on, is bound to have the greatest impact on women, but men "continue to make most of the decisions."

"I feel dismay at the apathy of women in this matter," she said. "It's not that women are necessarily more competent to make these decisions than men are, but it is imperative that women's judgments, when different from men's, should be given consideration."

Society is confronting major decisions in the near future, she emphasized.

Among these, she mentioned the matter of genetic counseling—whether it should be required for couples planning to marry.

"And if it is known that their heredity could produce a defective child, should they be forbidden to marry?" she asked. Or forbidden to have children?

"How about the matter of monitoring a fetus to determine defects. Should it be required? And then should we move to the next step—selective genetic abortion?"

DR. MAXEY laid forth opposing viewpoints in looking at the questions she raised.

One point of opposition she mentioned is the matter of human research in the genetic area. "Some say it cannot be done morally; that this is exploitation of ignorant women," she said.

"Opposing this idea is resentment of the suggestion that women who would involve themselves in such research should be considered ignorant, and the contention that genetic health is a simple necessity if we are to continue to exist as a people."

Another argument, she said, involves the question as to whether a fetus is a separate being or part of a woman's body.

"Also," Dr. Maxey went on, "there is the suggestion that women who favor abortion want sex without its consequences—further that women have always been known for the quality of compassion, and this might be diminished without the test of a defective child to rear."

"The answer to that is, women have always been forced to locate themselves somewhere between Eve and Mary, being assigned only two uses, maternity and harlotry."

"It should be pointed out that until this century many moralists and theologians frowned on anesthetics in childbirth, maintaining women were meant to bear in sorrow."

RESTRICTIVE LAWS also come in for sharp debate from the ethical viewpoint, Dr. Maxey said.

"Some maintain we must have laws because women cannot be trusted to make the right decisions with regard to respect for human life," she stated.

"But there is the opposing point that no lawmaker and no judge can know the individual problems involved in each decision or be prepared to accept the responsibility for its consequences."

Dr. Maxey insisted society should not legislate about ending pregnancy "until such time as a fetus can exist in an artificial womb and the church and the state will provide suitable facilities for impaired children."

Summing up, she stated:

"To decree that a woman cannot either use technology to reach a desired pregnancy or end an undesired one is to reinforce to society that the lives of women are less important than some vapid values like respect for society."

A happy green circle teaches human relations

By SHERRY KAHAN

It's round and green and it makes you feel happy to be inside.

It's called the Green Circle, and because of its development a lot of young elementary students around here know more now about that thing called human relations.

Some of them are second-graders at the Tyler School in Livonia, visited recently by Green Circle leader Rosemary Doyle and two assistants, Pat O'Toole and Judy Gresser.

Prepared by their classroom teacher, Donna Oakes, these youngsters were ready for a different experience when Mrs. Doyle and the others arrived.

FIRST, MRS. DOYLE asked for volunteers to help her put together a puzzle. From a forest of fists, she selected two boys and two girls. The four placed pieces of green felt in a circle on a flannel board.

Mrs. Doyle asked the children to think of the circle as their world. She then reduced the circle in size and placed within it the a cutout of a child.

"Here is your world," she told them. "Who did you first notice in your world?"

"My family," said one child. "My dog," said another.

IT QUICKLY became apparent that the circle had to be widened to include members of the family, and then widened again to include some children outdoors who became friends.

"Unfortunately this is where some people's circle stops growing," said Mrs. Doyle. "It never gets any bigger."

She then suggested they close their eyes and imagine how they feel when they are with people they like, and who like them.

"Good, happy, special, glad." The words spilled out rapidly.

And how do they feel when they are with people they do not like, and who do not like them, Mrs. Doyle asked the children.

"Sad, unwanted, mad," were the answers.

"WHAT MAKES YOU feel left out of the circle?" wondered Mrs. Doyle. "Somebody whispering." "Somebody was invited to a birthday party and I was left out."

The children assured her that at time like this they felt unimportant, unhappy and mad. In fact mean and angry enough to throw things.

Slowly the children began to feel that it was nice to be in the circle. They also had some suggestions as to how to bring a person they liked into their special ring.

They would go over and meet them, or invite them to dinner and to sleep over.

BY NOW THE CIRCLE had grown considerably to include many people. Mrs. Doyle explained that was why it was a green circle, because it kept growing to include friends, fellow students, teachers, neighbors, firemen, policemen.

The children also thought it would be nice to include people from all over the world as well as people of different sizes, wealth, countries, colors and ages. People who can't run or learn as fast would also be included.

"What is important is the kind of heart we have," said Mrs. Doyle. "When we have a kind of heart we have a circle of love and friendship. Inside this kind of circle how would you feel?"

"Kind, peaceful, happy, friendly, alive, caring, nice," were the responses.

THE GREEN Circle program was originated in Philadelphia by the Society of Friends, and was introduced to Livonia schools in May 1972. Financial support has been given it by the Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations and the Livonia Jayettes, but its main sponsor is the Panel of American Women.

Second graders were asked to make comments and pictures about what they heard. Mrs. Doyle reported that past performances have produced such comments as "I know what it's like to be left out" and "I'm not going to leave anyone out again."

What's ahead for school cafeterias' fare

(Last of a series)

By MARGARET MILLER

Bill gets a dollar for his lunch at high school every day. It actually costs him more than that by the time he gets a sandwich, a couple of candy bars and a soft drink from the food vending machines in the cafeteria.

Pam says she's dieting so she settles for a carton of milk from the lunch line. Maybe a bag of potato chips after school before drama practice.

Jim goes for the full lunch served in the school cafeteria. He eats the hamburger and potatoes but dumps the canned plums into the trash barrel. He doesn't like plums.

Sue finds a cheese sandwich in her brown bag lunch and she doesn't feel like a cheese sandwich that day. It's traded or scuttled.

Ted warms the hot dog he purchased in the microwave oven in the cafeteria. It's OK, but not home cooking.

Jane and Hank and Cindy and Jack head for the nearest fast food eatery. Pizza with french fries and more soft drinks. Their lunches aren't cheap, either.

A lot of their friends eat, with varying degrees of enjoyment, the hot lunches cooked in school kitchens.

AND, IN ALL THEIR SCHOOLS, administrators worry about the rising costs of noontime feeding and nutritionists think about the health of the students.

"These students don't know what they are doing to their bodies," was how it was put by Marge Wagner, director of food services in the Garden City school district.

But there are possibilities of changes down the road. They might mean an improvement, gastronomically, nutritionally and economically.

Those hoping for change look to the classrooms and the homes, to the school systems' capabilities for imaginative use of facilities, and to Washington.

IN LIVONIA, where high costs forced elimination of the Type A lunch program a while ago, a new concept of school lunch preparation is in the talking stage.

Dave Amerman, the district's director of career education, said he thinks food services classes, like two already operating in Frost Junior High and Franklin High, might be able to serve tasty lunches to an entire school.

In any such plan, he emphasized, present personnel in the cafeterias and kitchens would be retained to work with the students.

The current classes, he said, operate food services, "The Birchies" at Frost and "Poor Richard's" at Franklin, for teachers and staff members. They also undertake events like formal banquets for special occasions.

"We think we could offer a better meal for the same money and at the same time give the students invaluable experience in this field," he said.

"There's a lot of kitchen equipment that is not being used, and a facility is really the biggest problem in a program like this. With the money we save in labor costs, we could offer a greater variety of food."

"And there sure would be instant accountability for the kids in the program serving food to their classmates. I think it would work."

SHIRLEY CUNNINGHAM, Plymouth district school nurse, and Lynn Ehrlie, who teaches a consumer education class in Franklin Junior High, Wayne-Westland district, think education is the key to better nutritional habits for young people.

They mean education that starts in kindergarten and keeps going, rather than a unit on nutrition about sixth grade.

Ehrlie suggested math classes could practice on percentages of nutrients in the various foods, and social science instruction could include information on the health of people in various cultures and the food they eat.

"We have to start young," insisted Mrs. Cunningham. "Little children must learn you are what you eat. If the message starts early enough, they will learn to like good food."

Mrs. Cunningham said she and Darlene Huyck, the other middle school nurse, had made out a detailed questionnaire to find out how much was being taught in Plymouth schools in the nutritional field.

Not much before sixth grade, their survey indicated.

"But we're planning to try some changes," she said. "We're going to prepare kits with nutrition games and lists of film strips and offer our services as resource people. The Dairy Council of Michigan has some fine material the kids can really enjoy."

Mrs. Cunningham and Ehrlie also said there must be more attention paid to nutrition information at home regard they have the support of Nora Grajo, Wayne County General Hospital pediatric nutritionist.

"We would like to see the student eating balanced meals," she said, "but parents have to be involved. If they don't eat balanced meals at home, chances are they're not going to eat them in school."

A FEDERAL PROGRAM that would combine universal hot lunches with bigger servings of nutritional information is being talked about these days.

As reported to members of the American School Food Services Association in a recent seminar, it might cost just 10 cents and be available to millions of pupils.

Kenneth Schlossberg, staff director of the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, predicted considerable support in Congress for legislation being prepared by the council.

Gerry Tobin, Livonia food services director, said it was her understanding that such a program would be "given with nutritional information, which we certainly need."

"We ought to be told in the home, in school and on TV how to eat better foods," she said.

Tradition must go on

When Roberta Ramsey steps onto the Redford Union High School stage Thursday evening for a skit to open "Caesar's Follies," she'll be carrying on a long-standing tradition for the Redford Suburban League Theater Guild.

For Mrs. Ramsey, a Redford Township resident, has had a part in every one of the productions that have been helping the guild raise money to help handicapped children for 17 years.

This year she not only has a few minutes as a secretary in a Roman toga—she's also serving as producer of the whole show, scheduled to run three nights with curtain times 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10, and 7:30 Sunday, May 10.

"I've been thinking for several years I really ought to see what happened on top," she said, "but I was having so much fun on stage I hated to stop."

That's why she fitted the secretarial skit into her schedule of working with the script writers, naming committees, setting up rehearsal times and even helping find program book advertisers and doing a bit of proof-reading.

"CAESAR'S FOLLIES" is the latest in a series of productions that began in the Redford Suburban League's 1957-58 year.

That was the year the Theater Guild was organized to put on "Around the World in 80 Minutes," the first of the revues written, acted and produced by home talent and enormously successful in raising money for the "special children" dear to RSL hearts.

Roberta Ramsey was Dolly LaRue in that production, and though it was a starring role, she has to admit that "all I really remember about it is that I was supposed to be chasing a guy around the world in a balloon."

TWO OTHER LEAGUE members also began their own traditions in that production. Like Mrs. Ramsey, they have been on stage in every Theater Guild revue since then.

Jean Sansone Mandell will be back in "Caesar's Follies," dancing in a trio, and Clara Monarch, despite a recent illness, will be found in the chorus line.

Mrs. Ramsey played an assortment of parts in the parade of Theater Guild productions over the years. She was one of the five "girls" in "Vive

By MARGARET MILLER

Les Girls," a few years back, and last year turned up as Mrs. Fletcher in "Up, Up and Away," a story about a flying school.

THIS YEAR'S production, she said, is about a talent agency in ancient Rome so it will be replete with togas "but we have a few people wearing modern dress like overalls with the wreaths of leaves on their heads."

The stars will be Al McGhee as Julius Caesar (who else?) and his wife, Jessie, as Julius's wife, Mona.

The plot to hold together the songs and dances is about the couple's son, Sid, (who else, again?) taking over the agency and getting his name chiseled on the billboards.

ROBERTA RAMSEY has found her involvement this year considerably different from the times when she just did her bit on stage. Now she's responsible for a cast of 58 and for solving all the little hitches that can develop in an amateur production.

Through the years, she has involved her family to some extent in the productions. Husband Mark has helped some with lighting and photographing some of the revues, and her oldest daughter, now Mrs. Marcia Myers, has always done a lot of sewing.

And daughter Barbara will be keeping another tradition by celebrating a birthday with a Theater Guild production.

"Every year her birthday comes right when we're ready to go on stage," her mother said, "so I've never really had time for a proper birthday celebration. I used to tell her she could go to all three performances, and when she was younger this was quite a treat."

"I hope she enjoys the production this year."

Northwest YW plans car clinic

Graduates of the YWCA powderpuff mechanics program and six mechanics volunteering their services will staff a free car clinic for YW members Saturday, May 10 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the parking lot of the Northwest YW, 25940 Grand River, Redford Township.

Fourteen points will be checked on each car after the driver presents a YW membership card.

Volunteers for the day's program are Dennis Holiday, Earl Holiday, Jack Fitch, John Schultze, Bob Stogdill and Jean Agopian, YWCA powderpuff mechanics instructor. Several women now taking the course also will assist.

Family Y classes set

Registration is continuing this week for a new spring series of classes at the Livonia Family Y, 14255 Stark.

Backpacking for beginners, softball for women and hiking fun for youngsters are among the offerings in activities for May and June.

The classes range from two sessions to six weeks in length, and cost from $2 to $12 for YMCA members and from $4 to $18 for non-members.

Those interested may register at the Y building.

Monday's classes will include a "Kreative Krafts" session for small children with Maria Polin and folk guitar with Betty Lewis.

On Tuesdays, Sam Kasbarian will lead softball sessions for women 13 and up and there will be hiking to nearby trails for youngsters eight through 12.

Also planned for two Tuesdays, May 14 and 21, is a shadow box workshop with Sue Wion.

The schedule Wednesdays will include yoga, folk guitar and kiddie play school for children aged four and five, as well as three two-session workshops, values clarification with Y staff member Linda Grandstaff, dried flowers and fresh flower arranging, both with Gladys King.

The back-packing sessions are scheduled Thursdays, along with yoga and a magic class for children.

Kiddie play school also will be offered Fridays, along with a quilting class with Marge Solaski. Youth fun clubs are set for Saturdays.

Times and costs of each of the special interest classes, all getting under way the week of May 12, may be learned by calling the Family Y office.

CHATHAM

HERE'S PROOF

THE TEST

An independent survey team compared prices on the 150 items you buy most, such as: meat, eggs, milk, cheese, canned goods, fresh fruits and vegetables, cereal, detergents, juices, paper products, coffee, frozen foods and others.

Each week, they shopped in the six major chains in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

THE RESULTS

The survey proved that by shopping at Chatham your family could save significantly on their weekly food bill - and we have the figures to prove it.

THE MORAL

You don't have to run all over town to "Catch Advertised Specials" or wait for "Weekly Bargains". If you shop Chatham you'll discover what Chatham shoppers already know, your total weekly food bill will be less. And that's what saving is all about.

GOP women oppose ERA

Members of the Livonia Republican Women are asking the Michigan Legislature to rescind 1972 action supporting the Equal Rights Amendment. The group voted to make the request April 24 after hearing a talk by Elaine Donnelly, a Detroit leader.

Dinner dance

The woman's auxiliary of the Garden City Youth Athletic Association will hold its spring dinner dance Saturday, May 10 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Wayne-Ford Civic League, 1661 N. Wayne, Westland.

Tickets are $20 a couple and may be reserved by calling Mrs. Robert Szezmanski, 6431 Golfview, Garden City.

ing opposition to the amendment. Mrs. Jay Glover, president of the local Republican group, sent a letter to state officials outlining her organization's position. "We all support more job employment for women, equal pay for equal work (which is covered in the Civil Rights Act,) appointments of women to high positions, admitting more qualified women to med schools and other desirable objectives which all women favor," the letter stated. "However, ERA would deprive the American woman of many fundamental special privileges we now enjoy. Women's liberation is a total assault on the role of the American woman as wife and mother and on the family as the basic unit of society."

'Cure for sure' is diabetes drive aim

Scott and Jill Tower of Livonia are only 13 and 12, but every day they must be given an injection of insulin. They have diabetes.

On Friday, May 9 they will join 2,500 individuals in the metropolitan area going door-to-door asking for contributions for the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

Participating also will be their mother, Mrs. Shirley Tower, a captain for the more than 150 volunteers who will be ringing doorbells in Livonia, Westland, Garden City, Canton Township, Plymouth, Redford Township, Farmington and Northville.

"We want a cure for sure" is the theme of the Dollars for Diabetes drive.

"There is not one paid employee in the Michigan organization," said Mrs. Tower. "More than 90 per cent of our funds go into research. Last year 93.7 per cent of the funds we raised went into research."

Mrs. Tower believes most people don't think of diabetes as a serious illness.

"But it is," she said. "It is one of the leading causes of blindness, heart attack and kidney failure. It causes neurological disorder and can cause amputation of limbs as well as heart and vascular disease. It can shorten an individual's life span by one-third.

"My children are both diabetics and we want a cure."

Mrs. Tower noted that the possibility of a Beta cell transplant hovers somewhere in the future.

"When your Beta cells don't work, you become diabetic," she said. "They don't produce insulin. The cure would be to have new Beta cells."

"In juveniles the Beta cells don't work. Adult diabetics still have some Beta cells. But juvenile diabetics can't take pills to control the disease. They must have insulin by injection every day."

The researcher can't say when the Beta transplant might be available, but they guess it might be in five to 10 years.

"Statisticians indicate that by 1980 one in five persons will be diabetic," Mrs. Tower continued. "It has a lot to do with heredity. A lot is brought on by mumps or severe illness in childhood. There are quite a few diabetics in Livonia schools."

Those wishing to knock on doors for the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation may choose the area in which they work. If interested contact Mrs. Tower, 30653 Bobrich.

Dance planned

The Livonia Towne Club will hold its annual dinner dance Friday, May 16 in the Livonia Senior Citizens' Building, with festivities beginning at 7 p.m.

A Hawaiian Luau will provide the theme for the buffet dinner and dancing to the music of Les McDonald and his Satisfiers. Guests will be welcome and tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Walter Blacha, 15612 Ellen, Livonia, or Mrs. Raymond Palarchio, 9915 Blackburn, Livonia.

Their stitches help center

BY MARGARET MILLER

Women volunteers from the Church of Christ of Plymouth travel to the Northville Residential Training Center each Tuesday to put a dent in a mountain.

The mountain consists of used clothing that has been donated for the retarded residents of the center—some 220 of them.

To make their dent, they mend ripped seams, sew on hundreds of buttons, replace zippers with gripper snaps and generally refurbish the garments to make them useful again.

"We read about the center's need a few months ago, and our women's group was looking for a regular project," said Mrs. Laura Plyler of Northville.

A former sewing teacher, she has led the group of about a dozen women who sew each Tuesday at the center.

IT'S A GOOD service project, Mrs. Plyler and her fellow-menders agree.

"The clothing we find here always is clean," she said, "and the people here are all so nice. We really enjoy our Tuesdays."

Dolly LaCroix, who coordinates volunteer services at the center, and Polly Greaves, who takes charge of the clothing room, are most grateful for the help and wonder of women of a few other churches might like to follow suit.

"We have a group from a Detroit church that comes out occasionally," she said, "but we could use others that would like to help on a regular basis," Mrs. Greaves said. "There is always plenty to do."

OPERATION MENDING is just one of the areas in which the Residential Training Center could use a helping hand from the community.

Obviously, said Mrs. Greaves, there is a need for more clothing. "It has to be washable, except for men's coats and suits and women's coats," she added, "and it should be in good condition—not too much mending."

Donations can be taken any time during the day to the center, located at the west end of Northville State Hospital, 41001 W. Seven M.

Mrs. LaCroix mentioned several other ways that volunteers could assist the center staff in caring for its residents, all ambulatory, severely and profoundly retarded and ranging in age from nine to 86.

"Volunteers could assist instructors in occupational therapy, language training and vocational education," she said. "We especially would like to reach former teachers, who might learn to lead a group of these residents under supervision of our staff people."

OTHER NEEDS ARE for occasional volunteer assistants for the staff cosmetologist—"she can take care of only one resident at a time"—and for people who might be able to answer the telephone in the evenings and maybe do a little typing.

Mrs. La Croix also reported that the institution needs donation of some camping equipment to be able to take its residents on overnight trips this summer.

"It was requested in the budget but turned down," she said, "and the group of parents that has been trying to help out in matters like this does not have enough funds for a project like that."

"If we had enough tents, sleeping bags and cooking and eating equipment for a group of 12, we could enable these people to have an enjoyable and valuable experience this summer."

James Kent to be ordained

When James R. Kent is ordained Sunday, May 11 in Redford Baptist Church, Redford Township, he will be in familiar surroundings.

He was baptized in the same church in 1961 at the age of 11 and was a leader of the youth program of the church.

Upon receiving his Master of Divinity degree and his ordination, he will join the staff of his home church replacing Ruth Schroeder, the pastor's wife, who has served for 10 years as director of Christian education.

The pastor, Dr. Gordon H. Schroeder, says that it may be an unusual action for a church "to train their own."

But he believes in the "farm system" for churches as well as for baseball.

After graduating from Redford High School in Detroit, Kent graduated from the University of Michigan and the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary of Chicago.

The ceremony will take place at 6 p.m.

CHURCH BULETIN

BETHEL MISSIONARY ASSEMBLY OF GOD, 8900 Middle Belt, Livonia, will honor its pastor, the Rev. J.J. Traub, this weekend as he celebrates his 25th anniversary as leader of the Livonia congregation.

Pastor Traub and his wife, Margaret, will be feted at a congregational banquet Saturday, May 9, and a special anniversary service is planned on Mother's Day, May 10.

Before coming to Bethel, the clergyman served Assembly of God churches in Detroit and Harbor Beach. He also has had an evangelistic ministry, visiting most of the 50 states and Canada over the years. During his ministry at Bethel, some 30 members of the congregation have entered church-oriented careers, and one longtime parishioner described him as a pastor "who goes wherever the need."

GOOD SHEPHERD REFORMED CHURCH, 6500 N. Wayne, Westland, will hold a mini-mission preceded by a 24-hour prayer vigil Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 8 to 10.

The vigil will start at 7 p.m. Thursday. Friday evening's session, as the mission itself begins, will include congregational singing, followed by sharing and small group sessions. More discussion and work sessions are planned, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, and continuing through lunch and supper. The mission will end with a rededication service led by the Rev. Kel Kronmeyer at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

FOURTH CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, 24400 W. Seven Mile, Detroit, will present Paul K. Wavro of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in a talk Thursday, May 15 at 8 p.m.

Wavro's topic will be "The Way of Abundant Life."

ST. MATTHEW UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, 30900 W. Six Mile, Livonia, will present the Covenant Players, an inter-denominational drama group, Friday, May 9 at 7:30 p.m.

The group, organized 12 years ago, has given more than 130,000 performances in 10 countries. Its repertoire includes both one-act plays and dramatic vignettes, and its performance here is part of the St. Matthew observance of Family Week. A free will offering will be taken.

MEMORIAL CHURCH OF CHRIST, 35475 Five Mile, Livonia, will present the Watchmen, a group of 20 male singers from the Cincinnati Bible Seminary, in a special concert Tuesday, May 13 at 7:30 p.m.

PAUL K. WAVRO
CS lecturer

The group will offer sacred music under the direction of Byron Cartwright, and later will present popular selections in an afterglow sing. There is no admission charge.

WARD UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, will put its 7 p.m. vespers service Sunday, May 11, in the hands of the women of the church to mark Mother's Day.

Mrs. Bartlett L. Hess, wife of the senior minister, will speak on the theme "How Can a Woman Do Her Thing?" and Mrs. Robert Churcella, president of the Women's Missionary Association, will take charge of the program and install new officers.

Those taking leadership posts are Mrs. Harold Shaw, president; Mrs. Jack Comstock, vice president; Mrs. Margaret Wolds, treasurer, and Barbara Mansfield, secretary.

NEWBURG UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, will sponsor an art auction and exhibit Wednesday, May 14. Refreshments and a preview will begin at 7 p.m. and auctioning at 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.

NATIVITY UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST, will have a car wash, garage sale and bake sale sponsored by its junior high group Saturday, May 10 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in its parking lot.

Proceeds will be used for the youth group's projected camp trip. The car wash will be $1.

Mission violinist speaks in Mt. Hope

A pastor well known in the worlds of missions and music will be speaker in Mt. Hope Congregational Church, 30330 Schoolcraft, Livonia, on Thursday, May 15 at 7:30 p.m.

He is the Rev. Emmanuele Santi, who came to this country as a young man to study violin, remained to study theology and serve as pastor of several churches before returning to Italy to join with his brother in directing a home for orphans founded by their father.

Rev. Santi will tell of the work of Casa Materna in Portici, Naples, which cares for some 200 orphaned children and receives support of churches around the world.

Casa Materna was founded in 1905 by the Rev. Riccardo Santi, with support from the Methodist mission in Italy. He and his wife directed it for more than half a century and the leaders now are the Rev. Emmanuele Santi and his brother, Dr. Teofilo Santi.

The home now has five buildings, including a day school for 200 students, a social center and a hospital. It is celebrating its 70th anniversary June 22.

The visiting speaker, a graduate of Union Theological Seminary and Columbia University, served parishes in New York and New Jersey before returning to Italy.

He has written a book, "Take this Child," which tells of the 70-year ministry of the Santi family to the poor of Naples.

The book will be available at the church when he visits. Besides reporting the mission work, he will offer some violin music.

REV. EMMANUELE SANTI

Religion for retarded topic

Dr. Robert Segal will discuss what various religious faiths are doing in regard to religious education for retarded children at the next meeting of the Northwest Communities Association for Retarded Citizens Tuesday, May 13 at 8 p.m.

Dr. Segal is program director for social work at the Institute for the Study of Mental Retardation and Related Disabilities at the University of Michigan.

The meeting will take place in Harrison School, 28811 Jamison, Livonia.

EAR PIERCING CLINIC

At Meijer Thrifty Acres, a specially trained nurse, using a unique precision instrument will painlessly pierce your ears. All it takes is 1/10th of a second to pierce, insert the special sterile earrings, and apply the back. The earrings are non-allergenic 24 K gold, applied directly to surgical grade stainless steel, and are sterilized under rigid standards. If you're 18 or under, you must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

IT'S TIME FOR ANOTHER FIRST.

There's now a First Federal Savings of Detroit office at Ford Rd. and Haggerty Rd. in Canton Township.

We've just opened a brand-new neighborhood office of First Federal Savings of Detroit to serve the Canton Township area better... more conveniently. While our permanent building is under construction, look for our temporary office on the corner of Ford Rd. and Haggerty Rd.

Also look for all of First Federal's services, plus some special new-office treats that will prove that this is a particularly good time to visit us—because we're offering a selection of clocks and timing devices as new-account bonuses.

And we're also offering the highest interest rate available on regular passbook savings accounts with First Federal's 5 1/4 % daily interest that earns from date of deposit to date of withdrawal and is paid and compounded quarterly. And there are no withdrawal or minimum deposit restrictions to bother with. We also offer a variety of longer term, higher interest rate, certificate savings accounts.

You can come to us for mortgage help when you need it, too. We're the largest mortgage lender in Michigan, and we can offer you a variety of mortgage plans—VA, FHA or conventional—to best fit your particular needs.

Treat yourself to the feeling of confidence that comes from doing business with Michigan's largest savings and loan association, First Federal Savings of Detroit. Our more than 40 years of experience in money matters is yours for the asking. And we're anxious to help.

So stop in. Say hello to the Canton Township area's First. We're open 9:30 to 4:00, Monday thru Thursday; 9:30 to 6:00, Friday. If you can't stop in but you have a question, call us at 459-2520. We think you'll find that First Federal Savings of Detroit makes a very good neighbor.

Federal regulations permit only one gift per account, and the offer is good only while the supply lasts. So hurry on in for yours, at this location only.

The FACTS On Today's Real Estate Market

B. F. "Bud" Chamberlain

These are CONFUSING TIMES for many folks! Very briefly I would like to clear up some MISCONCEPTIONS:

FACT: There IS mortgage money available. We have a plentiful supply.

FACT: Interest rates have come DOWN in recent months, from a high of 11% a few months ago to 8 1/4% today!

FACT: Inflation is a fact of life which will keep construction costs high. Therefore, the cost of homes, new and old, will continue to increase for the foreseeable future.

FACT: Available housing units will remain below demand levels, which will also keep prices on the rise.

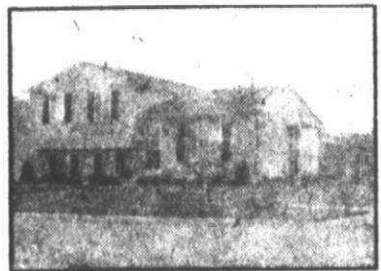

FACT: Your present home is worth more on today's market which means a new home may be well within your reach.

CONCLUSION: There has never been a better time to buy or sell! Our professional sales associates are ready to counsel you on your real estate needs, and prove to you why it's best NOT TO DELAY your home purchase. So, call TODAY!

HOMES, SWEET HOMES

NOW-OR LATER?

THE BIG GAMBLE. "If I postpone buying a house, will I save money?"

That's the big question asked by house hungry folks these days who want to keep an eye on their money. And the advice they're getting may not always be the best. If you've been advised to wait for housing costs to drop and interest rates to relax, it's a gamble, and the odds are against you. Prices of homes go up every year, an average of 6%--and that's a conservative estimate. And only a spectacular drop in interest rates could really effect a savings for you. That's because it takes an interest rate drop of 2% to equal the 6% annual increase on a $50,000 home. And the costs of land, labor and building materials are likely to continue increasing. All of which means, if you're looking for a home and you wait to buy it, you'll end up paying interest on a lot more money for the same amount of house.

COSTS CAN'T COME DOWN.

It's a familiar story. Historically the cost trend is always upward. Land, materials and construction are bound to follow. Compare the median price ($23,030) for existing homes in 1970 with the median price of $32,040 in 1974. That's a 39% increase. National averages show that construction costs will probably go up at least 15% each year you put off buying your new home.

BUT THERE IS A BRIGHT SIDE. Compared with expenditures on many items, homes offer very good value for the money. And experts agree that a good home is your best hedge against inflation these days because it increases in value an average of 6% a year. So, though the dollar becomes "cheaper," your home value zooms and your payments remain the same. To continue to wait (pay rent) in the hopes of buying a home for less in the future appears the expensive way to cope with today's inflation.

A CREATIVE LOT. Whatever your reasons for buying a home, you want to find the best one for your needs, wants and means: a place that "works" for you and your family. Realtors can be a creative lot when it comes to helping you make that choice. They're professionals who can offer you up-to-the-minute counsel on home values and financing opportunities...counsel which can prove invaluable to you in these confusing economic times. Local realtors are great to use as guides when you're hunting for a home, and can definitely make the home buying process simpler and more pleasant for you.

TIGHT MONEY? It's almost always available for good mortgages.

These days the lending institutions, and the government too, are bending over backwards to help home buyers obtain mortgage aid. Interest rates, which are not nearly as high as most other family credit, have been dropping a little, as reflected in this year's FHA-VA mortgage interest cut from 9 to 8½%. And of the types of mortgage loans available (conventional, FHA and VA), almost all can be arranged for a new home with easy, long-term payments and a moderate down payment. So, while it's important to shop for a mortgage that best suits your needs, you can obtain some excellent financial packages now at rates that may never be available to you again.

ENJOYMENT NOW

Almost everyone wants a place to call their own. Whatever your reasons for wanting to buy, the one at the top of the list is probably your family. That's because where you live affects the quality of your life, and buying a home represents a better way of life for most.

And now more than ever before, you need to feel happy with your surroundings. Buying a home any day can be a smart move because it offers a lot of advantages: security, contentment, privacy, pride of ownership, as well as increasing equity and important tax advantages. Buying a home today can be especially smart in view of lowered interest rates and opening credit. Practically speaking, a new home looks good because it usually requires a lower down payment, is easier to get a mortgage for, and costs less to maintain. But new or old, the choice of a home depends upon your needs and desires. Making that choice now means that you and your family can enjoy now.

THE FUTURE. Homes today look good in terms of the future. Home modules and lots in the decades ahead will probably be much smaller, while the possibility of materials shortages continues to loom. And as price tags everywhere carry higher figures, so will the ones on homes. Taking value appreciation, costs and equity into consideration, buying a home today looks like a good idea.
